Defense Rests In Police Burglary Trial

2 OF 35 RESCUED AS SHIP SINKS

Stratton Project Pushed

Barrier Erected To Start Big Dam

A "tranquilizer," in the shape of a super-dam to tame the mighty Ohio River, is beginning to take shape at Stratton.

Completion of the first-stage cofferdam for the actual dam itself has been completed and excavation started. The Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh is the contractor for this phase of the project.

THE RECTANGULAR structure, which is located ajacent to the locks on the Ohio side, has been pumped almost free of water so that excavation can proceed "in the dry." The pumping took about two days.

The cofferdam has 19 cells, each 54 feet in diameter. The cells are filled with sand and gravel dredged from the river. It encloses an area approximately 160-by-500 feet.

Three whirler cranes were towed upriver from the new Markland Locks being completed by Dravo at Warsaw, Ky. They will be used in removing approximately 3,000 cubic yards of rock from the river bottom inside the coffer. The same cranes will be used in pouring concrete for the dam.

FIVE DERRICK boats were employed in handling the steel piling for the coffer and for filling the cells and placing a concrete cap on each. The whirler cranes will be installed on rails resting on the caps.

They will move around the coffer as needed. One of the rigs has a 140-foot boom.

Concrete will be supplied from a floating mixer plant. Cement, sand and aggregate will be brought to the site by barge.

In all, 170,000 cubic yards of concrete will be needed for the 1,315-foot-long dam, which will have 12 piers and 11 electrically-operated tainter gates to control the river's flow. Bases for the piers will be poured on rock 45 feet below the present river level.

THE FIRST stage of the actual dam is scheduled for completion late next summer. Work then will get under way on the second stage, next to the West Virginia shore. The center enclosure section will be built last.

While work is being done on the center section, boats will be locked through the 600-foot lock, one of two such chambers. The other is 1,200 feet long.

When completed, the new dam will raise the upper pool level 15 feet. Since removal of the present New Cumberland dam will lower the downstream pool 7 feet, the

Claims Self-Defense

Part-Time Teacher Faced By Torch Murder Charge

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Edyth Klumpp, 34, a pretty part - time teacher who Tuesday night told police of slaying a rival and then burning her body, claimed today that she acted in self-defense. She is charged with murder.

Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32, over whose husband the women quarreled, drew a pistol while they were discussing the situation, Mrs. Klumpp said in a written statement.

Then, she added, "something happened and Mrs. Bergen was injured." She did not elaborate.

When she learned Mrs. Bergen was dead, Mrs. Klumpp told Asst. Prosecutor Mel Ruger, she shoved the body into the luggage compartment of her automobile. The next day she took it to the shore of Lake Cowan, a state reservation near Wilmington (Clinton County) and set it afire.

Several children, who boarded at her home, accompanied her to the lakeside where gasoline was poured on the body, she said in the statement. That was Oct. 31.

Hunters found the body the following day.

The children apparently were not aware of what was going on, Col. Henry Sandman, detective chief here, told a reporter.

This morning Mrs. Klumpp was driven over the route she said she took to the lake.

Detectives Wilbur Stagenhorst and Eugene Moore, who accompanied her, also hoped to find the pistol Mrs. Klumpp said Mrs. Bergen drew.

Mrs. Klumpp divorced her husband a year ago, after 17 years of marriage.

Col. Sandman said Mrs. Klumpp told this story:

She met Mrs. Bergen at a suburban shopping center last Oct. 30 to talk over the possibility of

Bulganin Off Last Big Post, Sources Say

MOSCOW (AP) — Usually informed sources said today former Premier Nikolai Bulganin has been dropped from the Communist party's Central Committee, his last important post.

The bearded former traveling companion of Nikita Khrushchev also has been dismissed from the minor post to which he had been relegated, head of a regional economic council at Stavropol, sources said.

There have been no public announcements of either move. They have been expected, however, since Premier Khrushchev at a Central Committee meeting a week ago linked Bulganin with the "antiparty group" ousted in July 1957.

The group included former Premier Georgi Malenkov, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov. It was widely reported that Bulganin sided with them against Khrushchev, then changed sides when it became apparent Khrushchev would win out.

Search Continued For Missing Airman

HILL AFB, Utah (AP)— Ground parties and Air Force planes searched the frozen wilderness east of here again today for the missing navigator of an ill-fated C119 transport plane.

The plane's eight occupants parachuted into the storm-swept mountains of northeastern Utah last Friday after one of the craft's two engines failed. The plane crashed in eastern Idaho.

Four of the eight were rescued. Three died in the sub-zero cold before rescue parties found them.

Board Names Oakmont Man

George R. Wilkinson Fills County Vacancy

George R. Wilkinson, 36, of Oakmont was elected to the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday night.

Wilkinson is a member of the Beaver Local School District Board, a salesman for the Heinz Co. of Pittsburgh and is president of the Beaver Local Boosters Club.

His wife is the former Betty Wines of East Liverpool. They have four children.

Two other prospects had been contacted, along with Wilkinson, to determine their willingness to serve, if chosen.

Wilkinson will serve the unexpired term of Asst. Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis. Bettis was succeeded by Jack Pozenel, who resigned because he was president of the Beaver Local School Board and the two positions were held incompatible. Pozenel was succeeded by Harry Greenwood, who resigned recently because of illness.

The board noted in its minutes receipt of a 700-name petition from residents of Yellow Creek Township and parts of Madison and Washington Townships to withdraw from the new Southern Local District.

Ike Hopes To Cut Next Year's Spending

Juror Bribe Claim Told By Witness

Drug Clerk Quotes Cunningham That 'Jury Was Bought'

The defense rested at 10:45 a. m. today in the police burglary trial at Lisbon after Prosecutor G. William Brokaw completed his cross examination of Police Chief Americo Radeschi, the first rebutal witness.

Radeschi told of a conversation he had Saturday with Ira Cunningham, ex-police officer, while on the way from Cunningham's home to the police station after the defendant had been arrested on charges of attempting to corrupt a juror.

Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former city policemen, and Jerry Raimond, one-time special officer, are on trial for an indictment charging burglary of the Burbick Hardware store in East Liverpool in 1952.

A jury is hearing the case in Common Pleas Court with Judge Raymond Buzzard presiding.

Radeschi said Cunningham told him " 'This is the last straw. If they want me to talk they can just call the Grand Jury. When I do start talking, I will involve more than just the police department'."

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, co-defense counsel, objected to the testimony but was overruled.

The next witness called was Donald Lockhart, 910 McKinnon Ave., a drug clerk at McBurney's Pharmacy, who sometimes works at Sevy's Pharmacy.

He said he knew Cunningham by his coming to the store to pick up film to be developed. He said he was called for jury duty under the name of "Donald Lockwood." Lockhart said on the day he received the notice, he talked with Cunningham.

"He told me I was going to be on the jury because he had read it in the paper," Lockhart said. He added he didn't tell Cunningham of the difference in the names. "He, Cunningham, started to talk about the trial which had just been completed," Lockhart said. He said " 'We had a bought jury' but I didn't know what he meant."

Lockhart related he saw Cunningham again Monday, Nov. 3, about 5 or 6 p. m. "I told him I didn't want on the jury and didn't want to get mixed up in the situation." Lockhart said Cunningham called him later in the week and asked him if his name was " 'Lockwood or "Lockhart'?" "I saw him at the store again Nov. 8. We discussed the case a little and he asked me why I didn't want jury duty.

"I told him it would handicap me financially and that I didn't want to make any decisions in the case," Lockhart said. "Cunningham told me 'there is only one decision that can be made and said 'don't worry about the difference in your pay, that will be taken care of'."

"I didn't know what he meant, Lockhart said. "He then said, 'I will personally see you are taken care of in the difference in pay

Court To Draw Venire For Village Green Case

A venire of 24 prospective jurors was to be drawn today in Municipal Court for a trial scheduled tentatively Tuesday for two men who face gambling charges in connection with alleged booking of horse race bets in the Village Green tavern.

The defendants are Alfred Nitsche, 820 Ohio Ave., Midland, and Harry S. Pease of near Rogers, who were arrested Sept. 30 after an undercover investigation by two State Liquor Control Department investigators.

Pease and Nitsche entered not guilty pleas Oct. 1 and later filed requests for jury trials. They are free on $500 bonds. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said the trial date is tentative as one of the defense lawyers, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Lisbon, also is defense counsel in the current police burglary trial at Lisbon.

U.N. Accord Due On Outer Space Study

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The prospects looked good today for unanimous U.N. agreement to get started on an international study of ways to explore outer space for peaceful purposes.

Russia's sudden shift toward the Western position brought demands from several quarters that Western and Soviet delegates meet to iron out their remaining differences and formulate a unified resolution for the U.N. Assembly.

Western delegates were heartened by the new Soviet proposal, which dropped earlier demands for abandonment of U.S. bases overseas and a ban on military space missiles. This appeared to eliminate the chief hurdle to agreement.

In presenting his new plan, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin made plain the Soviet Union would continue to press for abolition of American overseas bases and a ban on sending military missiles into outer space. But he indicated this would be done through the new 81-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Russia's new proposal called for creation of an 11-nation study group to work out the "program and rules" for a permanent U.N. committee for cooperation in the study of outer space for peaceful purposes.

The United States and 19 associated nations have also proposed creation of a temporary committee to study the possibilities of international cooperation in outer space and to recommend the form for a future space agency. The American plan does not specifically authorize a permanent commission.

Young Driver Thrown Clear In Car Plunge

Passenger Remains While Auto Rolls 40 Feet Down Hill

A 17 - year - old driver was injured when thrown clear as his auto hit a guardrail on the Lisbon St. grade Tuesday night shortly after 8, but his passenger escaped unhurt although he remained in the car as it rolled 40 feet down the sheer hillside toward Jethro Hollow, finally coming to a halt against a large tree.

William H. Carnegie, 125 Reynolds St., Beechwood, was treated at City Hospital for multiple contusions of the head and ankle suffered in the spectacular crash. His passenger, William Tullis, 16, of 1094 High St. was examined at the hospital after he climbed out of the wreckage of the demolished car. No apparent injuries were found.

In two other traffic mishaps last night, an East End man was arrested for drunken driving after his auto was involved in a hit-skip crash and a Canton man was cited for lack of a driver's license when his car struck guardrails on Dresden Ave.

The Lisbon St. crash damaged property at the home of Mrs. Pauline Dingey, 1020 Lisbon St., including a flight of wooden steps and a guardrail, police said. A concrete sidewalk was broken and shifted out of place and a flight of cement steps was damaged, officers said.

It all started as Carnegie drove

All Others Feared Lost In Disaster

18 Bodies Found After Lake Michigan Storm Rips Vessel

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — Two men were found alive today in angry waters of Lake Michigan, which it was feared had claimed the lives of 33 others from the freighter Carl D. Bradley when she went down in the cold, storm-tossed lake late Tuesday.

Unofficial tabulations indicated 18 bodies had been recovered.

Some veteran seamen expressed amazement even two had survived overnight in 50-degree water in howling gale winds that piled up mountainous waves on the Great Lakes. The air temperature was 40.

The 615-foot Bradley, longer than two football fields end-to-end, went down off Gull Island at the top of Lake Michigan in 60-mile winds. Split apart, she apparently exploded when incoming water hit her hot boilers.

The German motorship Christian Sartori, which battled for more than an hour to cover the three miles to the sinking site, found no survivors, no life boats; nothing except a tank that came from deep inside and indicated explosion.

First mate Elmer Fleming, 43, and deckman Frank Mays, 26, both of Rogers City, Mich., were found alive today off High Island, north and east of where the Bradley went down.

A sea plane reported sighting eight bodies on a raft, but was unable to say whether there was life in any.

Verne Cole of the Grand Rapids Herald, keeping tab on ship and aircraft radioes reports at the elbow of a ham operator, said 18 bodies had been recovered.

There was no confirmation of any body recoveries from the Coast Guard.

Rescue craft, with waves still running high in 30-mile winds, were reported having difficulty getting into shallow waters where the bodies were reported sighted.

At 5:20 p.m. Tuesday the Bradley radioed its homeport, Rogers City, it estimated it would arrive at 2 a.m. today. A limestone carrier, it was en route home empty, having left its cargo for Gary steel mills at Buffington, Ind.

Then at 5:31—just 11 minutes later — Capt. Roland Bryan, the Bradley's skipper shouted into his radio: "Mayday, Mayday, Mayday. This is the Carl D. Bradley. Our position is approximately 12 miles southwest of Gull Island. We are in serious trouble."

Next, a voice was heard: "Run, grab life jackets. Get the jackets. Mayday, the ship is breaking up."

Capt. P. Mueller of the Christian Sartori heard. He set his course of the scene, only three miles away. But in 68-mile winds and 20-foot waves, which follow each other much more closely on the lakes than on the oceans, it took him more than an hour to get there.

"I believe," he finally reported, "all hands are lost. No lifeboats are visible."

Hunter Suffers Wound In Mishap Near Salem

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported the first hunting accident of the season Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. along the railroad tracks on Orchard Grove Rd. south of Salem.

Schaefer was taken to Salem City Hospital where one pellet was removed and he was given tetanus shots and released.

The hunting season opened Saturday.

Western delegates were heartened by the new Soviet proposal, which dropped earlier demands for abandonment of U.S. bases overseas and a ban on military space missiles. This appeared to eliminate the chief hurdle to agreement.

In presenting his new plan, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin made plain the Soviet Union would continue to press for abolition of American overseas bases and a ban on sending military missiles into outer space. But he indicated this would be done through the new 81-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Russia's new proposal called for creation of an 11-nation study group to work out the "program and rules" for a permanent U.N. committee for cooperation in the study of outer space for peaceful purposes.

The United States and 19 associated nations have also proposed creation of a temporary committee to study the possibilities of international cooperation in outer space and to recommend the form for a future space agency. The American plan does not specifically authorize a permanent commission.

Young Driver Thrown Clear In Car Plunge

Passenger Remains While Auto Rolls 40 Feet Down Hill

A 17 - year - old driver was injured when thrown clear as his auto hit a guardrail on the Lisbon St. grade Tuesday night shortly after 8, but his passenger escaped unhurt although he remained in the car as it rolled 40 feet down the sheer hillside toward Jethro Hollow, finally coming to a halt against a large tree.

William H. Carnegie, 125 Reynolds St., Beechwood, was treated at City Hospital for multiple contusions of the head and ankle suffered in the spectacular crash. His passenger, William Tullis, 16, of 1094 High St. was examined at the hospital after he climbed out of the wreckage of the demolished car. No apparent injuries were found.

In two other traffic mishaps last night, an East End man was arrested for drunken driving after his auto was involved in a hit-skip crash and a Canton man was cited for lack of a driver's license when his car struck guardrails on Dresden Ave.

The Lisbon St. crash damaged property at the home of Mrs. Pauline Dingey, 1020 Lisbon St., including a flight of wooden steps and a guardrail, police said. A concrete sidewalk was broken and shifted out of place and a flight of cement steps was damaged, officers said.

All Others Feared Lost In Disaster

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — Two men were found alive today in angry waters of Lake Michigan, which it was feared had claimed the lives of 33 others from the freighter Carl D. Bradley when she went down in the cold, storm-tossed lake late Tuesday.

Unofficial tabulations indicated 18 bodies had been recovered.

Some veteran seamen expressed amazement even two had survived overnight in 50-degree water in howling gale winds that piled up mountainous waves on the Great Lakes. The air temperature was 40.

The 615-foot Bradley, longer than two football fields end-to-end, went down off Gull Island at the top of Lake Michigan in 60-mile winds. Split apart, she apparently exploded when incoming water hit her hot boilers.

The German motorship Christian Sartori, which battled for more than an hour to cover the three miles to the sinking site, found no survivors, no life boats; nothing except a tank that came from deep inside and indicated explosion.

First mate Elmer Fleming, 43, and deckman Frank Mays, 26, both of Rogers City, Mich., were found alive today off High Island, north and east of where the Bradley went down.

A sea plane reported sighting eight bodies on a raft, but was unable to say whether there was life in any.

Verne Cole of the Grand Rapids Herald, keeping tab on ship and aircraft radioes reports at the elbow of a ham operator, said 18 bodies had been recovered.

There was no confirmation of any body recoveries from the Coast Guard.

Rescue craft, with waves still running high in 30-mile winds, were reported having difficulty getting into shallow waters where the bodies were reported sighted.

At 5:20 p.m. Tuesday the Bradley radioed its homeport, Rogers City, it estimated it would arrive at 2 a.m. today. A limestone carrier, it was en route home empty, having left its cargo for Gary steel mills at Buffington, Ind.

Then at 5:31—just 11 minutes later — Capt. Roland Bryan, the Bradley's skipper shouted into his radio: "Mayday, Mayday, Mayday. This is the Carl D. Bradley. Our position is approximately 12 miles southwest of Gull Island. We are in serious trouble."

Next, a voice was heard: "Run, grab life jackets. Get the jackets. Mayday, the ship is breaking up."

Capt. P. Mueller of the Christian Sartori heard. He set his course of the scene, only three miles away. But in 68-mile winds and 20-foot waves, which follow each other much more closely on the lakes than on the oceans, it took him more than an hour to get there.

"I believe," he finally reported, "all hands are lost. No lifeboats are visible."

Schaefer was taken to Salem City Hospital where one pellet was removed and he was given tetanus shots and released.

The hunting season opened Saturday.

Warren Loses Its Sewage Dumping Permit, Grant Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The city of Warren has lost its permit to dump sewage into the Mahoning River and at the same time missed out on a $250,000 federal grant to help the city build a proposed eight-million-dollar sewage plant.

The Ohio Water and Pollution Control Board at a hearing Tuesday refused to extend the sewage dumping permit which expired Nov. 15. The board also voted to withdraw Warren's priority for the federal funds.

Warren can appeal the board's action on the permit to Trumbull County Common Pleas Court within 15 days. An appeal could hold up further action by the control board.

If there is no appeal the control board can on Dec. 9 issue a notice of violation. After a 60 day grace period there can be another hearing.

After that, the control board can turn the case over to the attorney general for prosecution. Warren can then be fined up to $500 a day for dumping sewage.

Warren Mayor William Burbank told the hearing Tuesday that rising bond interest costs cancelled plans to issue construction bonds for a new sewage treatment plant.

Congressional Reapportionment Blues

It is well understood that the next federal census in 1960 will be the basis for automatic reapportionment of seats in Congress. It could be a political turning point.

The reapportionment can be expected in the congressional elections of 1962. Ohio, one of the states now being under-represented, will gain one seat, it is estimated. California will gain seven seats, mostly at the expense of New York and Pennsylvania, which will lose three apiece, according to current estimates.

The same census, of course, will stimulate interest in the reapportionment of seats in the lower houses of state legislatures, which have not had the advantage of automatic reapportionment. That is another story.

The ideal legislative district in either a state legislature or Congress would be so heavily lopsided in favor of one party or the other that its spokesman always would have a clear mandate.

But it is a striking circumstance of the vote in the Nov. 4 election this year that while 209 Democrats amassed more than 60 per cent of the total votes in their districts, only 37 Republicans had that much security.

This is being pointed to in connection with prospects for the immediate future of the two-party system in the U.S. House of Representatives.

If in 1960, there were to be a pro-Democratic switch of less than 10 per cent in the popular vote, the Republican party would lose three-fourths of the 153 House seats it retained in the Democratic landslide this year.

Or to state the same proposition in reverse, if there were to be a pro-Republican switch of 10 per cent in the popular vote in 1960, the Democratic party still would lose only 23 per cent of the 282 seats it now holds.

Or to state the same proposition even more starkly, if the Democrats who will control Congress until 1962, because of this situation, decided to wipe out the Republican party by funny business in redistricting, they could whittle it down to long-term impotency in congressional politics.

The Republican contingent in the U.S. Senate now stands at its lowest point since 1940. The GOP minority in the House is smallest since 1936, when the second Roosevelt landslide buried Republicanism for 10 long years.

It Took A Bundle Of Money

There always is such lively interest in the cost of campaigns to influence public opinion that the Teamsters Union has beaten everybody else to the punch this time by revealing it spent a minimum of $800,000 to put over its share of the campaign against proposals to ban compulsory unionism in six states this year.

This figure was named by Harold J. Gibbons, assistant to Teamsters president James R. Hoffa and a vice president of the union. He appeared before the Economic Club of City College of New York, in place of his chief, who was scheduled to speak. Mr. Gibbons explained that local unions in the six states where the compulsory unionism ban was at issue raised $400,000, which was matched by the international union.

When everything has been totaled, he estimated as much as a million dollars may have been spent by the Teamsters alone to defeat right-to-work proposals in Ohio, California, Colorado, Idaho and Washington. Some of the money was spent in Kansas, where the ban was not defeated. Most of it, he said, was spent in Ohio and California, the key states.

This was only the Teamsters contribution. The assumption is that AFL-CIO unions spent considerably more than the Teamsters spent in the effort to defeat right-to-work proposals. The New York Times reports one estimate of a million and a half dollars in California alone.

It goes without saying that if right-to-work proposals had been approved in the states where they lost it would have been claimed by their opponents that the heavy spending of their backers turned the tide.

Neither Mr. Gibbons, nor Mr. Hoffa, whose speech he was delivering to the Economics Club of City College of New York, could be expected to say that anything but the strong convictions of working people contributed to the lopsided defeat of the proposals. But it is apparent by their admission that it took a bundle of money to strengthen the convictions.

This Will Take A While

A fellow used to feel about the baseball setup the way he felt about the Little Entente, the Holy Alliance and the United Nations, when it came along.

He thought he understood it, whether he really did understand it or not. He had a happy illusion of being with it, even in the glum days when the St. Louis Browns had no visible means of support and the Philadelphia Athletics were broken up by Connie Mack because they were too good.

But when the mayor of New York City, Robert Wagner, talks about starting a new major league in baseball in order to have two major league teams in the city, because the National League has pulled out and doesn't want to come back, it takes a while for the logic to reveal itself.

The Giants went to San Francisco and the Dodgers went to Los Angeles because their owners thought there was more money to be made on the West Coast than in New York City. This was, of course, their privilege. Baseball clubs are private enterprises.

Yet the mayor of New York is so bell-bent on having at least two baseball clubs calling his city home that he is threatening to help start a whole league in order to get one club, despite the fact two New York clubs turned their backs on him and went to California.

It is going to take a while for the logic of this reasoning to reveal itself, unless it's nothing but mayor-type talk to panic the National League into putting its next distress-case franchise into New York. The big city can't stand the thought of being with only one team, no better than Cleveland or Pittsburgh.

You Can Bet On It

Sooner or later, the illusion that the seasons have been turned around and summer is returning will be shattered by the banshee howl of a blizzard.

This is as certain as the certainty that when it happens these things will follow in quick succession:

1. A traffic jam of historic proportions as drivers learn all over again not to gun their engines when the rear wheels spin.

2. Bitter recriminations between drivers who got stuck and road maintenance officials who were unable to be everywhere at once with snow - removing equipment and abrasives.

3. A sellout of tire chains and snow-tread tires to customers who never gave them a thought before and will not know where the chains are by next spring and would not know how to put them on if they did know.

4. A semi-hysterical hustle-bustle as thousands of people who apparently never saw snow before mill about, get stuck in it, catch cold in it and get fluttery about it, though winter has been coming and going with regularity throughout their lifetimes, with snow, sleet, slush and all the trimmings.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

National Safety Council asks a ban on Yuletide office parties as a menace to public safety. The idea is good, but it won't get far in a civilization where, once a year, every "mousey" member of the organization thinks he is entitled to a fling at wildlife, liberty, character changes and attention as a gay boy who swings from chandeliers making passes at chicks who never saw him before with his eyeshade off and his dignity down.

Lives there an office hand with spirit so dead, he never to himself hath said, On Dec. 24., "Oops! I am mankind's gift to the ballet! Phone Agnes DeMille, I need no more lessons"?

IN EVERY OFFICE there are drab, self-effacing figures who toe the line 364 days a year but have their own Hell-za-poppin routine at an office party.

This is their hour of freedom from restraint, their liberation from their own built-in solemnty.

Miss Witherspoon, for 24 years in the office with an almost unbroken record for progressive shyness, turns into a Sally Rand.

Mrs. Puddicombe, heavily dressed most of the year, develops suddenly into an Esther Williams, using the punch bowl as a Hollywood pool.

"POP" PRINTWHISTLE, office grouch 11 months and 24 days, does a character switch into the man on the flying trapeze, using a trapeze that isn't there. J. Carroway Spudd, grim company vice president familiar to the staff only through secret recordings of his grunts and groans, blossoms into a noisy soul of conviviality, and gives imitations of Red Skelton, Jackie Gleason and Four Hawaiians all in a joint effort.

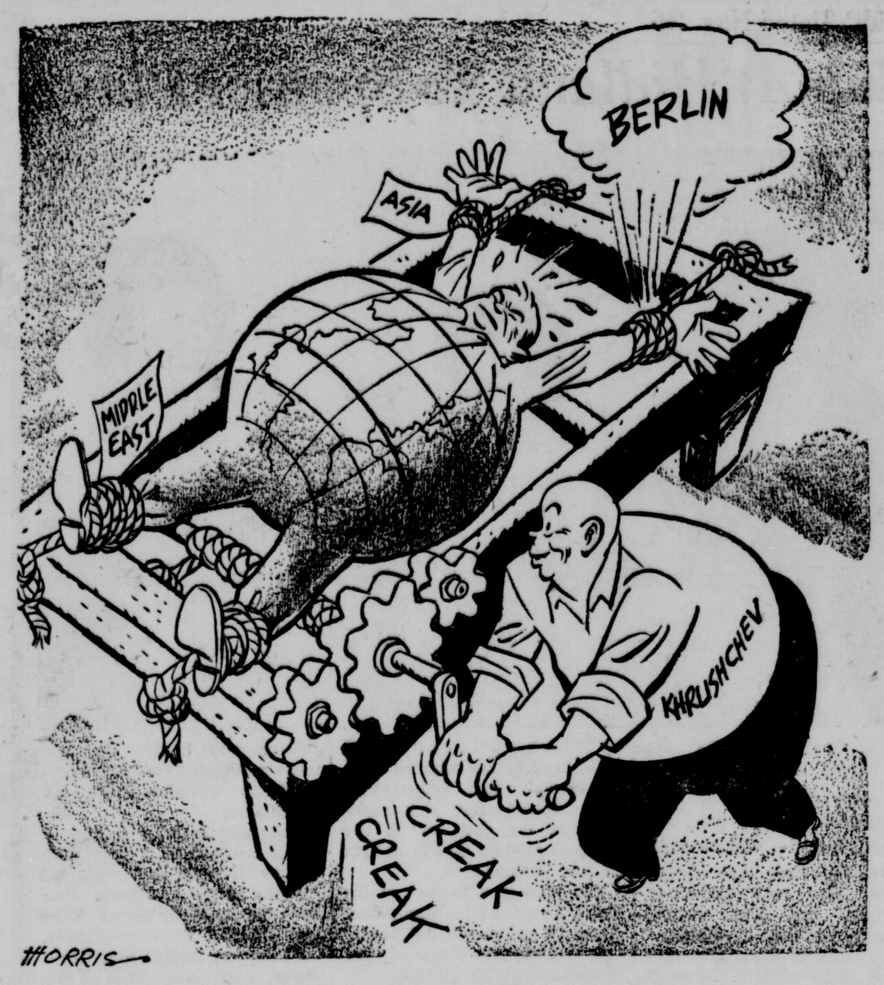
Many accidents result, including the discovery of the efficiency director that he was driving home with two stenographic dolls who he has claimed for adoption. Then there is the middle-aged gal in the office morale division who turns up in garage under the seat of the company treasurer's sports car. And don't forget the husband who, getting home late, knocks over the Christmas tree and yells, "It pulled a knife on me."

Curb the office party if you will. But remember you will meet with resistance.

A "MOPPET" CRISIS has been avoided. Macy parade balloons, threatened by government refusal to allow helium gas needed for missile development, will appear after all. They'll be inflated by air and suspended from cranes. Nice work. It was depressing to think that even kiddies would suffer from the missile situation and left to believe all the rubber giants, elephants, lizards, etc., had gone to war.

HICKSVILLE, L. I., has barred Chaplin films. Well, there is no excuse for Charlie's anti-American attitude, for it was here that he became great and made his millions. But the films involved were "The Fireman," "The Pawn Shop" and "The Floorwalker" masterpieces of good clean fun away back in his career, and they did not promote lust, general immorality, contempt for marriage and a year-around season for mate-stealing. There are top movie people who specialize in these things who are not barred. The kids aren't influenced by Chaplin's political views. They are greatly influenced by the views and actions of show biz home-busters who go merrily along unhampered.

Another Little Twist



The Reuther Formula For Getting Votes

By Victor Riesel

(Certainly Walter Reuther became one of the most controversial issues of this past dramatic campaign. There was national discussion of his union's political activities. Here, drawn from the pages of his own publication distributed in labor circles, is the first detailed report on the inner workings of the Auto Union's Political Action Dept.)

Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther and his aides in the Auto Union's ultra - modern model Political Action Dept. back no candidate with a gray flannel tongue.

Using techniques which outmode even Madison Ave.'s super pulse-taking methods, the union's political units test each political hopeful for "indolence" and "vocal ability" as well as voting record.

Hundreds of candidates, seeking the union's support, are put through what Reuther's own publicists call the "coffee grinder."

"Altogether it is a helluva obstacle course for any candidate who wants labor's endorsement," bluntly asserted the official post-election report of the Auto Union to its membership.

This referred to the special Auto Union precinct committees which interview every candidate seeking labor's endorsement — and the nominee's "personal habits are not above inquiry."

THIS REPORT reveals it isn't easy to get into the coffee grinder, either. Before a local, state or congressional candidate can get into the waiting room of the union's interviewing boards, the politico must fill out a long and "rigorous" questionnaire.

It is a complete personal history. It asks for his political activity in "minute detail."

What does he think of taxes, civil rights, social welfare, labor laws, industrial-agricultural-rural-urban economic development, public education, election laws and legislative apportionment?

What are his ideas on how a successful candidate should conduct himself?

The interviewing is handled by a special "steering committee." In this directing group is the strength of the political activity led by Walter Reuther and the Auto Union's high command. Follow this from the street level up to the point where they find a candidate above vice and vocal in low decibels.

The report states that the Political Action Dept. ties together seven to 10 precincts into one "zone."

Each "zone" has a chairman elected by the precinct workers. Then some 30 zone chairmen band together. They make up the executive or steering committee of the union's congressional district organization.

THESE ARE the men who actually interview the candidates of the major political parties.

Once the candidates are endorsed, the issues must be found by the steering committee and their block workers.

No mass opinion - seeker ever polled a district more carefully. The report says: "They (the campaign workers) must find out what issues are of particular concern to each citizen.

"They are even expected to ferret out particular neighborhood gripes and then apply a little community service — nagging the city for another street light on the dim corner near an elderly woman's home or agitating for playground improvements in a neighborhood with a heavy population of children."

There are plenty of workers for these chores — since the union, working with the party, generally the Democrats — supplies two special workers for each precinct.

All this is coordinated. Usually the committee headquarters is in an empty store, hired a few weeks before Election Day.

THE EFFECTIVENESS of these street level command posts is best told in the words of the report from "Solidarity," the union's publication:

"Hub of activity, of course, is the district headquarters. Here the precinct worker comes to get his literature, exchange information with his brother doorbell-ringers, discuss the day's news and its effect on issues and voters' interests, make his reports, meet a candidate who may have sauntered in to find out how he's doing in the district."

Here, behind windows plastered with big campaign posters, street rallies are planned. Techniques to arouse voter interest are traded. Here the precinct worker is told what "there is about a certain candidate that is causing uncertainty in the voter's mind."

The candidate comes in for briefing on what to talk about in his next campaign rally speech. He learns what issues he must "press harder."

Finally, says the report, "Arrangements are made on Election Day to haul to the polls those who can't go or would neglect to go."

That's the Michigan formula. Apparently it works!

Letters To The Editor

I am in sympathy with the family that was involved in the tragic fire along Penn Ave., also with the other families that were fortunate enough to escape.

In The Review of Nov. 15 I noticed two articles that carried a message by contrast.

One was a plea from the Salvation Army and Red Cross for any assistance, furniture and otherwise, to reunite the stricken families back together in a home. In this article God's name was not used, although I had the feeling He was present.

The reliable Salvation Army and Red Cross, in all their acts of charity, are worthy of all the help which they request for others.

The other article carried the word "God" but was empty and void of His existence. This seemed like neglect of foresight to attempt to place blame for any tragedy on the shoulders of any other person, or group of people.

We are all responsible for the acts of government under God, be it good or evil, regardless of our chosen party, or non-participation in politics.

I am certain the vote on the tax issue, at this time, did not cause the loss of their lives. It could not have, because the city had fire trucks and equipment, plus men, at the scene within minutes. No more men or equipment would have been trained or added in this short period of time. Impossible.

I may not be a bonafide resident of East Liverpool, but at least I spend most of my money there. I am what one might be called "A resident by proxy".

Now with this feeling of belonging to the people, I will add this concerning the tax issue:

I believe both sides are wrong.

The only method to progress communitywise would be to meet together, as a group, and amicably iron out any problems sensibly, even though you may not get your way in its entirety.

Selfishness is not progressiveness.

Working men and women may be poor, but evidently they will bend over backward to help. Don't belittle your neighbor because they see things differently than yourself, you are treading down what little respect others may hold for you, besides denying freedom.

Try including Faith and God in your community living, then complain, if you are qualified.

E. L. BEMIS
WELLSVILLE.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks to the Fire Department, Police Department and Mayor Lawrence for their cooperation and help during the fire that occurred last Friday evening in my office.

The fast and efficient work of the firemen in extinguishing the fire was responsible for saving the entire building and in saving many, many lives.

In talking to the firemen, I was informed that one of the reasons for the prompt extinguishing of the blaze was due to the use of modern equipment, especially the Scott Air-Pac.

I sincerely hope that the people of East Liverpool in the future will support any ways and means of keeping the Fire Department up to the high standard of efficiency which we now enjoy and that newer and better equipment will always be available to the department.

The policemen with whom I came in contact personally during the fire — Patrolman Devon, Lt. Mike Winters and Capt. Pyle — were helpful beyond words. I know that there were many other police concerned, too, and I sincerely want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of them.

PAUL TOBIN
131 W. 6th St.

I may not be within my rights to criticize the administration of the city of East Liverpool—since I live outside the city limits at the present time.

I have been a citizen of the city for most of my life, however, and I probably will live within the city limits again.

It disheartens me no end that I wasn't able to vote at the November election this year, to have my say in the repeal of the city income tax.

Not so much for the fact that it wasn't OK'd. It is just the method by which it was enacted. We all know that it was put up before public vote and was defeated. Therefore, Council knew the citizens of E. L. did not want the tax, but went over the heads of 'what makes the city' (the citizens) and put into effect the City Income Tax.

As we know, most any company or government can make many improvements if they can obtain enough additional revenue, but most people of East Liverpool have a limited income — taxed to what they feel is the hilt now.

So it is of my belief that the citizens of East Liverpool elected the officials who are now in office to manage the affairs of this city with what revenue it had at election time or to acquire revenue from other sources for improvements as it sees fit.

'Scoops' And 'Leaks'

By David Lawrence

Times Have Changed In Washington News Circles

Times certainly have changed since the days when newspapermen took pride in getting a "scoop" and when their competitors recognized such enterprise and thought it was unsportsmanlike to cry "leak."

David Lawrence

Nowadays when the press secretary of the President of the United States claims —as he did on the television last Sunday — the privilege of giving out news to whichever correspondents he wants to help with "background," this is sarcastically referred to as a "leak" — something he shouldn't do.

Never in the recollection of this correspondent has the chief presidential secretary dealing with news been regarded as a minor official, but as a principal — as much entitled to give out news for the government as if he were the head of a department in the executive branch.

Nor is any president forbidden by any rule to give out information to selected individuals in the press except as he may impose a restraint on himself due to a reluctance to face the protesting cries of other newsmen.

President Theodore Roosevelt used to have a group of friendly newswriters around him all the time, and when it came to giving out "scoops," he usually favored the writers from newspapers whose editorial policies were in opposition to him.

He used to say frankly that, if he couldn't "get a break" in the editorial pages of such newspapers, he at least had a right to get one in their news columns.

PRESIDENT TAFT tried for a while to hold "background" conferences with a group of newspapermen selected for him by an unofficial press adviser, but the plan failed because the President himself, owing to his long service as a federal judge, just wasn't accustomed to dealing in impromptu fashion with the spot news of the day.

When President Wilson was first inaugurated, he held press conferences for all writers who were certified by the newly formed White House Correspondents Association.

These press conferences didn't permit direct quotation and were abandoned shortly after World War I began.

This was because Mr. Wilson objected to the presence of correspondents, writing for newspapers in Germany, who, he felt, merely acted as information gatherers for the German Embassy.

Rather than make a public issue or international incident out of it, he stopped holding press conferences himself. They were carried on daily, however, by the President's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty.

He gave out information as he pleased and nobody accused him of not having the right to give "background" information to individual correspondents if he wished.

LAST SUNDAY, when Presidential Press Secretary Hagerty was quizzed on a Columbia Broadcasting System television show about "leaks" and "background" information, the inference of one of his interrogators was that a presidential secretary doesn't have the right to give out "background" information or even "leak" stories to any reporter he chooses.

But, oddly enough, this practice thrives on Capitol Hill and it is not easy to trace the "leaks" or the "background" stories that come from individual senators or congressmen whose views are thus distributed anonymously on many controversial questions of the day.

Nor do many correspondents at the Capitol feel that a catastrophe has happened if one of their number gets an occasional "scoop" because of friendliness with certain news sources.

There is, of course, always the "planted" story, which happens when the newspaperman himself hasn't the slightest hint ahead of time about the news which is given him.

He is selected for the artificial "scoop" either because his paper is prominent or has a big circulation or because he can be trusted to keep his mouth shut as to where and how he got the "exclusive" story.

THUS IT WAS to the interest of the last Democratic administration to "leak" to a New York newspaper — which printed it in full — the actual transcript of the conversation at Wake Island in 1950 between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur.

The general had not known till he read it in the newspapers that a stenographer had been listening at a keyhole. This is an example of a "planted leak" but curiously enough very little furor was raised by the "right to know" organizations of those days, as it still was considered a good "scoop" for the newspaper that got it, unethical though it happened to be for the administration that resorted to the trick.

The right of an administration even to put out a "planted" story, however, cannot be denied, though, if present tendencies continue this sort of thing, too, may eventually be controlled by the "right to know" laws and regulations being currently espoused.

Maybe in the days to come nobody will ever need to fear being "scooped" or feel again the pressure to get a "scoop."

Purely Personal

I am impressed by people with enough foresight to look forward to the first blizzard during one of the balmiest Novembers on record. Fact is, I feel sorry for them. They're the kind who would take sedatives with champagne.

Nothing the muck-rakers can dig up in the way of football scandals this year will get my attention, my disapproval or my approval. I think it is silly to penalize schoolboys and their schools for the misdemeanors of coaches.

I can be forgiven — I am sure all of us can be forgiven — for showing no enthusiasm for products whose producers show no enthusiasm for making them, or is it unthinkable for workers in this country to feel enthusiastic about their bread and butter?

It appears to me everybody is trying to soft-pedal the main thing revealed in the election, which is that no party in power can withstand a decline in the rate at which income is channeled into the pockets of industrial workers and farmers. Politics has turned into economic blackmail.

There is something amusing about the plaintive pleading of colleges that cannot fill their rosters, to the effect that reports of overcrowding have been grossly exaggerated. Much as the pleaders hate to admit it, there is competition in private education.

I admire two public personalities of my time for a demonstrated sense of integrity — Bess Truman and John N. Garner, who despised Washington so much they went home and kept their mouths shut forever after.

The basis for apportioning places in the College of Cardinals in the Roman Catholic Church seems to me to be curiously lopsided in favor of Italy, but this may be due to my misunderstanding of the setup.

Albert C. Wedemeyer is the latest general to tell all, which is something that comes about automatically these days because old generals, like old politicians, are worth their weight in memoirs, provided the memoirs are newsworthy.

A reader thinks everybody should know that band uniforms never are paid for out of school funds, because this misapprehension has made it hard to pass school levies. The truth is that people who vote against school levies always can find one more excuse; they don't really want to know.

National Safety Council asks a ban on Yuletide office parties as a menace to public safety. The idea is good, but it won't get far in a civilization where, once a year, every "mousey" member of the organization thinks he is entitled to a fling at wildlife, liberty, character changes and attention as a gay boy who swings from chandeliers making passes at chicks who never saw him before with his eyeshade off and his dignity down.

Lives there an office hand with spirit so dead, he never to himself hath said, On Dec. 24., "Oops! I am mankind's gift to the ballet! Phone Agnes DeMille, I need no more lessons"?

IN EVERY OFFICE there are drab, self-effacing figures who toe the line 364 days a year but have their own Hell-za-poppin routine at an office party.

This is their hour of freedom from restraint, their liberation from their own built-in solemnty.

Miss Witherspoon, for 24 years in the office with an almost unbroken record for progressive shyness, turns into a Sally Rand.

Mrs. Puddicombe, heavily dressed most of the year, develops suddenly into an Esther Williams, using the punch bowl as a Hollywood pool.

"POP" PRINTWHISTLE, office grouch 11 months and 24 days, does a character switch into the man on the flying trapeze, using a trapeze that isn't there. J. Carroway Spudd, grim company vice president familiar to the staff only through secret recordings of his grunts and groans, blossoms into a noisy soul of conviviality, and gives imitations of Red Skelton, Jackie Gleason and Four Hawaiians all in a joint effort.

The standard office party combines wassail, holly, old-fashioned vaudeville, Texas rodeo and the Follies Bergere with touches of border warfare. Results are horrifying.

Many accidents result, including the discovery of the efficiency director that he was driving home with two stenographic dolls who he has claimed for adoption. Then there is the middle-aged gal in the office morale division who turns up in garage under the seat of the company treasurer's sports car. And don't forget the husband who, getting home late, knocks over the Christmas tree and yells, "It pulled a knife on me."

Curb the office party if you will. But remember you will meet with resistance.

A "MOPPET" CRISIS has been avoided. Macy parade balloons, threatened by government refusal to allow helium gas needed for missile development, will appear after all. They'll be inflated by air and suspended from cranes. Nice work. It was depressing to think that even kiddies would suffer from the missile situation and left to believe all the rubber giants, elephants, lizards, etc., had gone to war.

HICKSVILLE, L. I., has barred Chaplin films. Well, there is no excuse for Charlie's anti-American attitude, for it was here that he became great and made his millions. But the films involved were "The Fireman," "The Pawn Shop" and "The Floorwalker" masterpieces of good clean fun away back in his career, and they did not promote lust, general immorality, contempt for marriage and a year-around season for mate-stealing. There are top movie people who specialize in these things who are not barred. The kids aren't influenced by Chaplin's political views. They are greatly influenced by the views and actions of show biz home-busters who go merrily along unhampered.

Another Little Twist

The Reuther Formula For Getting Votes

By Victor Riesel

(Certainly Walter Reuther became one of the most controversial issues of this past dramatic campaign. There was national discussion of his union's political activities. Here, drawn from the pages of his own publication distributed in labor circles, is the first detailed report on the inner workings of the Auto Union's Political Action Dept.)

Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther and his aides in the Auto Union's ultra - modern model Political Action Dept. back no candidate with a gray flannel tongue.

Using techniques which outmode even Madison Ave.'s super pulse-taking methods, the union's political units test each political hopeful for "indolence" and "vocal ability" as well as voting record.

Hundreds of candidates, seeking the union's support, are put through what Reuther's own publicists call the "coffee grinder."

"Altogether it is a helluva obstacle course for any candidate who wants labor's endorsement," bluntly asserted the official post-election report of the Auto Union to its membership.

This referred to the special Auto Union precinct committees which interview every candidate seeking labor's endorsement — and the nominee's "personal habits are not above inquiry."

THIS REPORT reveals it isn't easy to get into the coffee grinder, either. Before a local, state or congressional candidate can get into the waiting room of the union's interviewing boards, the politico must fill out a long and "rigorous" questionnaire.

It is a complete personal history. It asks for his political activity in "minute detail."

What does he think of taxes, civil rights, social welfare, labor laws, industrial-agricultural-rural-urban economic development, public education, election laws and legislative apportionment?

What are his ideas on how a successful candidate should conduct himself?

The interviewing is handled by a special "steering committee." In this directing group is the strength of the political activity led by Walter Reuther and the Auto Union's high command. Follow this from the street level up to the point where they find a candidate above vice and vocal in low decibels.

The report states that the Political Action Dept. ties together seven to 10 precincts into one "zone."

Each "zone" has a chairman elected by the precinct workers. Then some 30 zone chairmen band together. They make up the executive or steering committee of the union's congressional district organization.

THESE ARE the men who actually interview the candidates of the major political parties.

Once the candidates are endorsed, the issues must be found by the steering committee and their block workers.

No mass opinion - seeker ever polled a district more carefully. The report says: "They (the campaign workers) must find out what issues are of particular concern to each citizen.

"They are even expected to ferret out particular neighborhood gripes and then apply a little community service — nagging the city for another street light on the dim corner near an elderly woman's home or agitating for playground improvements in a neighborhood with a heavy population of children."

There are plenty of workers for these chores — since the union, working with the party, generally the Democrats — supplies two special workers for each precinct.

All this is coordinated. Usually the committee headquarters is in an empty store, hired a few weeks before Election Day.

THE EFFECTIVENESS of these street level command posts is best told in the words of the report from "Solidarity," the union's publication:

"Hub of activity, of course, is the district headquarters. Here the precinct worker comes to get his literature, exchange information with his brother doorbell-ringers, discuss the day's news and its effect on issues and voters' interests, make his reports, meet a candidate who may have sauntered in to find out how he's doing in the district."

Here, behind windows plastered with big campaign posters, street rallies are planned. Techniques to arouse voter interest are traded. Here the precinct worker is told what "there is about a certain candidate that is causing uncertainty in the voter's mind."

The candidate comes in for briefing on what to talk about in his next campaign rally speech. He learns what issues he must "press harder."

Finally, says the report, "Arrangements are made on Election Day to haul to the polls those who can't go or would neglect to go."

That's the Michigan formula. Apparently it works!

Letters To The Editor

I am in sympathy with the family that was involved in the tragic fire along Penn Ave., also with the other families that were fortunate enough to escape.

In The Review of Nov. 15 I noticed two articles that carried a message by contrast.

One was a plea from the Salvation Army and Red Cross for any assistance, furniture and otherwise, to reunite the stricken families back together in a home. In this article God's name was not used, although I had the feeling He was present.

The reliable Salvation Army and Red Cross, in all their acts of charity, are worthy of all the help which they request for others.

The other article carried the word "God" but was empty and void of His existence. This seemed like neglect of foresight to attempt to place blame for any tragedy on the shoulders of any other person, or group of people.

We are all responsible for the acts of government under God, be it good or evil, regardless of our chosen party, or non-participation in politics.

I am certain the vote on the tax issue, at this time, did not cause the loss of their lives. It could not have, because the city had fire trucks and equipment, plus men, at the scene within minutes. No more men or equipment would have been trained or added in this short period of time. Impossible.

I may not be a bonafide resident of East Liverpool, but at least I spend most of my money there. I am what one might be called "A resident by proxy".

Now with this feeling of belonging to the people, I will add this concerning the tax issue:

I believe both sides are wrong.

The only method to progress communitywise would be to meet together, as a group, and amicably iron out any problems sensibly, even though you may not get your way in its entirety.

Selfishness is not progressiveness.

Working men and women may be poor, but evidently they will bend over backward to help. Don't belittle your neighbor because they see things differently than yourself, you are treading down what little respect others may hold for you, besides denying freedom.

Try including Faith and God in your community living, then complain, if you are qualified.

E. L. BEMIS
WELLSVILLE.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks to the Fire Department, Police Department and Mayor Lawrence for their cooperation and help during the fire that occurred last Friday evening in my office.

The fast and efficient work of the firemen in extinguishing the fire was responsible for saving the entire building and in saving many, many lives.

In talking to the firemen, I was informed that one of the reasons for the prompt extinguishing of the blaze was due to the use of modern equipment, especially the Scott Air-Pac.

I sincerely hope that the people of East Liverpool in the future will support any ways and means of keeping the Fire Department up to the high standard of efficiency which we now enjoy and that newer and better equipment will always be available to the department.

The policemen with whom I came in contact personally during the fire — Patrolman Devon, Lt. Mike Winters and Capt. Pyle — were helpful beyond words. I know that there were many other police concerned, too, and I sincerely want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of them.

PAUL TOBIN
131 W. 6th St.

I may not be within my rights to criticize the administration of the city of East Liverpool—since I live outside the city limits at the present time.

I have been a citizen of the city for most of my life, however, and I probably will live within the city limits again.

It disheartens me no end that I wasn't able to vote at the November election this year, to have my say in the repeal of the city income tax.

Not so much for the fact that it wasn't OK'd. It is just the method by which it was enacted. We all know that it was put up before public vote and was defeated. Therefore, Council knew the citizens of E. L. did not want the tax, but went over the heads of 'what makes the city' (the citizens) and put into effect the City Income Tax.

As we know, most any company or government can make many improvements if they can obtain enough additional revenue, but most people of East Liverpool have a limited income — taxed to what they feel is the hilt now.

So it is of my belief that the citizens of East Liverpool elected the officials who are now in office to manage the affairs of this city with what revenue it had at election time or to acquire revenue from other sources for improvements as it sees fit.

'Scoops' And 'Leaks'

By David Lawrence

Times Have Changed In Washington News Circles

Times certainly have changed since the days when newspapermen took pride in getting a "scoop" and when their competitors recognized such enterprise and thought it was unsportsmanlike to cry "leak."

David Lawrence

Nowadays when the press secretary of the President of the United States claims —as he did on the television last Sunday — the privilege of giving out news to whichever correspondents he wants to help with "background," this is sarcastically referred to as a "leak" — something he shouldn't do.

Never in the recollection of this correspondent has the chief presidential secretary dealing with news been regarded as a minor official, but as a principal — as much entitled to give out news for the government as if he were the head of a department in the executive branch.

Nor is any president forbidden by any rule to give out information to selected individuals in the press except as he may impose a restraint on himself due to a reluctance to face the protesting cries of other newsmen.

President Theodore Roosevelt used to have a group of friendly newswriters around him all the time, and when it came to giving out "scoops," he usually favored the writers from newspapers whose editorial policies were in opposition to him.

He used to say frankly that, if he couldn't "get a break" in the editorial pages of such newspapers, he at least had a right to get one in their news columns.

PRESIDENT TAFT tried for a while to hold "background" conferences with a group of newspapermen selected for him by an unofficial press adviser, but the plan failed because the President himself, owing to his long service as a federal judge, just wasn't accustomed to dealing in impromptu fashion with the spot news of the day.

When President Wilson was first inaugurated, he held press conferences for all writers who were certified by the newly formed White House Correspondents Association.

These press conferences didn't permit direct quotation and were abandoned shortly after World War I began.

This was because Mr. Wilson objected to the presence of correspondents, writing for newspapers in Germany, who, he felt, merely acted as information gatherers for the German Embassy.

Rather than make a public issue or international incident out of it, he stopped holding press conferences himself. They were carried on daily, however, by the President's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty.

He gave out information as he pleased and nobody accused him of not having the right to give "background" information to individual correspondents if he wished.

LAST SUNDAY, when Presidential Press Secretary Hagerty was quizzed on a Columbia Broadcasting System television show about "leaks" and "background" information, the inference of one of his interrogators was that a presidential secretary doesn't have the right to give out "background" information or even "leak" stories to any reporter he chooses.

But, oddly enough, this practice thrives on Capitol Hill and it is not easy to trace the "leaks" or the "background" stories that come from individual senators or congressmen whose views are thus distributed anonymously on many controversial questions of the day.

Nor do many correspondents at the Capitol feel that a catastrophe has happened if one of their number gets an occasional "scoop" because of friendliness with certain news sources.

There is, of course, always the "planted" story, which happens when the newspaperman himself hasn't the slightest hint ahead of time about the news which is given him.

He is selected for the artificial "scoop" either because his paper is prominent or has a big circulation or because he can be trusted to keep his mouth shut as to where and how he got the "exclusive" story.

THUS IT WAS to the interest of the last Democratic administration to "leak" to a New York newspaper — which printed it in full — the actual transcript of the conversation at Wake Island in 1950 between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur.

The general had not known till he read it in the newspapers that a stenographer had been listening at a keyhole. This is an example of a "planted leak" but curiously enough very little furor was raised by the "right to know" organizations of those days, as it still was considered a good "scoop" for the newspaper that got it, unethical though it happened to be for the administration that resorted to the trick.

The right of an administration even to put out a "planted" story, however, cannot be denied, though, if present tendencies continue this sort of thing, too, may eventually be controlled by the "right to know" laws and regulations being currently espoused.

Maybe in the days to come nobody will ever need to fear being "scooped" or feel again the pressure to get a "scoop."

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I am impressed by people with enough foresight to look forward to the first blizzard during one of the balmiest Novembers on record. Fact is, I feel sorry for them. They're the kind who would take sedatives with champagne.

Nothing the muck-rakers can dig up in the way of football scandals this year will get my attention, my disapproval or my approval. I think it is silly to penalize schoolboys and their schools for the misdemeanors of coaches.

I can be forgiven — I am sure all of us can be forgiven — for showing no enthusiasm for products whose producers show no enthusiasm for making them, or is it unthinkable for workers in this country to feel enthusiastic about their bread and butter?

It appears to me everybody is trying to soft-pedal the main thing revealed in the election, which is that no party in power can withstand a decline in the rate at which income is channeled into the pockets of industrial workers and farmers. Politics has turned into economic blackmail.

There is something amusing about the plaintive pleading of colleges that cannot fill their rosters, to the effect that reports of overcrowding have been grossly exaggerated. Much as the pleaders hate to admit it, there is competition in private education.

I admire two public personalities of my time for a demonstrated sense of integrity — Bess Truman and John N. Garner, who despised Washington so much they went home and kept their mouths shut forever after.

The basis for apportioning places in the College of Cardinals in the Roman Catholic Church seems to me to be curiously lopsided in favor of Italy, but this may be due to my misunderstanding of the setup.

Albert C. Wedemeyer is the latest general to tell all, which is something that comes about automatically these days because old generals, like old politicians, are worth their weight in memoirs, provided the memoirs are newsworthy.

A reader thinks everybody should know that band uniforms never are paid for out of school funds, because this misapprehension has made it hard to pass school levies. The truth is that people who vote against school levies always can find one more excuse; they don't really want to know.

The Coast Guard cutter, Sundew sped out of Charlevoix, but smaller craft which tried to follow it were driven back. Neither the Sundew nor the plane spotted anything all night.

Then the plane's crew spotted Fleming and Mays shortly after dawn.

The Sundew, which took them aboard, radioed that Fleming said he did not recall any explosion and it was his belief that heavy seas broke the Bradley apart. He was reported suffering from exposure, but in good condition.

The Charlevoix Coast Guard station ordered crewmen flown to Beaver Island, largest in a group at the top of Lake Michigan, to man a 40-foot boat there in hopes of getting into shallow waters where bodies were reported spotted.

In another storm on Nov. 11, 1913, a total of 18 ships were lost and 254 persons died.

new dam's total lift will be 22 feet.

THE GRAVITY section of the dam, the upper section, will be 65 feet wide with a "stilling section" of concrete extending an additional 38 feet and a second section of stone for another 50 feet. The stilling basin is required to keep the water pouring over the dam from scouring out the bottom.

Dravo won the contract for the dam in June on its low bid of $13,452,000.

Work is nearly complete on the locks. The Savin Construction Co. of East Hartford, Conn., won this contract in October 1955 on a low bid of $16,312,765.

THE GATES in the locks have been installed, the bottom is being finished and the electrical system installed, according to the Army Corps of Engineers.

Nationalists Claim Reds Planning Attack

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists charged the mainland Communists today with building up their fortifications opposite Quemoy in preparation for an attack.

A communique said 1,400 Communist soldiers were observed constructing fortifications.

"The whole pattern of construction is for offensive purposes," the chief military spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, told newsmen.

Norfolk Votes Against Move To Integration

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Local voters advised the City Council in an informational referendum Tuesday that they do not want six closed white schools returned to city control for integrated operation.

It was the first time the question had been put to residents in any of the three localities in which schools are closed under Virginia's massive resistance to integration laws.

Unofficial returns from the city's 46 precincts gave 12,340 votes against requesting Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to return the schools to 8,712 votes for making the request.

The outcome of the balloting is not binding on the council, although at least five of its seven members had indicated they would act on a majority vote.

Three junior high and three senior high schools have been closed since Sept. 29 when the City School Board, complying with a Federal Court desegregation order, enrolled 17 Negroes. State law requires the immediate closing of any public school in which the races are mixed.

The law also provides that the governor may, at his discretion, return any closed school to the locality if the local governing body and school board so ask. But if it is returned and opened on an integrated basis, state funds are cut off.

Board

No action was taken as the County Board feels the new Southern Local District is legal and is a 12-year district. The petition was filed under a section covering eight-year districts.

A case testing the legality of the Southern Local merger has been filed in Common Pleas Court but no final hearing has been set.

Meanwhile, the so-called Paul Talbott petition for release of the Hillcrest territory of Yellow Creek to Wellsville is before the State Board of Education for decision. It had been denied by the County Board.

Mrs. June Ingraham, county office clerk, acted as board clerk in the absence of Supt. James L. McBride, who is ill. Mrs. Elizabeth Strabley, a board member, also was absent.

The next meeting is Tuesday, Dec. 16, at 8 p. m. in county school offices in the Courthouse.

Since World War II the British Navy has been withdrawing from Bermuda and now maintains only a small station there.

Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Wide Hunt Opens For Man Who Shot Georgia Officer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—All available officers joined today in a hunt for a man who shot and killed a motorcycle policeman a few minutes after a $187 liquor store holdup.

Frank Wall, 34, and a veteran of the Augusta force, died Tuesday night in a hospital several hours after being shot five times.

Police quoted witnesses as saying Wall stopped a car reported stolen earlier in Augusta to question the driver. He was shot down without warning.

Police said the gunman roared away in the car. Officers chased the vehicle at speeds up to 120 miles an hour before losing it. The car later was found about 10 blocks from the scene of the shooting.

The dog is the most domestic of all animals.

Death Of Son Kept From Mother

Power To Be Buried Near Rudolph Valentino's Crypt

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The body of Tyrone Power will be interred near the crypt of Rudolph Valentino, but Power's mother, 70 and ill, won't be told of her son's death.

"The news would kill her," a maid said Tuesday.

The disclosure recalls the benevolent family conspiracy that kept the mother of crooner Russ Colombo ignorant of her son's death. She died in 1944 unaware the crooner accidentally had shot himself 10 years before while examining an old Civil War pistol.

Power's mother, who lives quietly in a Hollywood home with a nurse and a maid, suffered a stroke several years ago. "We don't have a radio in the house and we only let her watch certain programs on television," the maid said.

Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack on a movie location in Spain, was a devoted son. He visited his mother frequently while in Hollywood and sent her a constant flow of cards when away.

The body of the 44-year-old actor was scheduled to arrive by plane tonight accompanied by his widow, the former Debbie Ann Minardos. She expects a baby in February.

Funeral services were tentatively scheduled for Thursday noon.

However, a Catholic source here said that it is doubtful Power can be buried in the Catholic faith. Although born and baptized a Catholic, a source said, Power automatically excommunicated himself when he married the former Mrs. Minardos, a divorcee and the actor's third wife.

The church considers Power's marriage to his second wife, actress Linda Christian, still a valid marriage. His first marriage to actress Annabella was not valid in the eyes of the church.

Miss Christian arrived Tuesday night from Paris and New York. Miss Christian's and Power's two daughters, Romina Francesca, 8, and Taryn Stephanie, 6, arrived from Mexico City where they had been living with their grandmother. The children have not been told of their father's death.

Youth Dies In Wreck

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — One youth was killed and his two companions seriously injured Tuesday night when their car went out of control on Ohio 58 west of Spencer and turned over in a ditch. Killed was Edward Coe, 16. Admitted to Oberlin Hospital were Dennis Newton and Robert Stroupe, both 16. All were from Spencer.

downgrade at the second curve from the foot of the hill, police said. His car crossed the street to the east side, scraping a mail box, and then ran into the hillside, striking a large rock, officers said. Then the car went across the street, where it hit a guardrail post and a door flew open, throwing the driver clear. After Carnegie flew out, the car rolled 40 feet down the hillside, halting against the tree, officers said. The auto was demolished.

Police said Carnegie apparently was driving at a high rate of speed. However, the youth said he was traveling about 15 miles an hour when the gas feed of the car became stuck. When he applied the brakes, the car went out of control, he said.

As a result of a hit-skip crash on Harvey Ave. last night at 10:42, Harold W. Summers, 40, of 1161 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $300 and costs and given a 10-day jail term today in Municipal Court on a drunken driving charge. His operator's permit also was suspended for 6 months.

Police said Summers' 1955 eastbound sedan hit a parked 1956 auto owned by John LaCotta, 26, of 2216 Harvey Ave., damaging the left side extensively. A motorist who was following Summers obtained the license number and reported it to police. Officers said Summers was taken into custody at the state line, where he had pulled his car off the highway.

The charge of driving without a license was filed against Gerald F. Yates, 21, of Canton after his 1951 convertible hit a Dresden Ave. guardrail at 8:46 p. m. yesterday. Yates told police he was blinded by the headlights of an approaching car.

He is due for a Municipal Court hearing Monday at 9 a. m.

Another hit-skip crash Tuesday at 8:27 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. damaged a parked 1951 sedan owned by Howard D. Hughes, 812 Dewey Ave. Hughes told police he parked his auto and walked to a building across the street. As soon as he entered, he heard a crash and when he glanced out he saw his car had been damaged, he said.

A collision on Broadway 200 feet south of E. 5th St. at 4:04 p. m. Tuesday damaged a 1956 sedan driven by Adrienne Osborn, 23, of Cain and Harriet Sts. and a 1947 sedan operated by Joseph W. Kent, 17, of 721 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Wife Hurt As Driver Wrecks 'Unsafe' Truck

A New Castle woman was injured slightly when a tractor - trailer truck, termed unsafe by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol and driven by her husband, wrecked on Route 7 a mile and a half north of Stratton Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Joann Walter, 24, was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the forehead and a laceration of the scalp.

Investigation showed eight layers of the 12-ply tire were worn off. There was no sign of tread, officers said.

City Trucker Injured In Crash Fatal To Man

An East Liverpool trucker was hospitalized and a Uhrichsville motorist killed in a collision Tuesday at 8:45 a. m. on Route 8 near Dover.

Roy E. Abbuhl, 55, died when his car collided with the tractor-trailer rig driven by Darryl Hoppel, 21, of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., the State Highway Patrol said.

Hoppel, who hauls shingles for the T. K. Roofing Co. of Chester, was en route home after having delivered a load.

Abbuhl, an employe of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. in Canton, was Tuscarawas County's 13th traffic fatality of the year.

a divorce so that Mrs. Klumpp could marry the victim's husband, William.

She drove Mrs. Bergen to a spot in northern Hamilton County where "something happened and Mrs. Bergen was injured."

Mrs. Klumpp did not indicate whether the victim was alive at the time.

She said she put the body in the trunk of her car, drove home and after washing, went to teach her sewing class at an evening school.

The next day, Mrs. Klumpp bought a can of gasoline from a neighborhood station, drove to Lake Cowan and set the body afire.

Police said they recovered a gasoline can from the garage at Mrs. Klumpp's apartment Tuesday night.

Although Mrs. Berger disappeared on Oct. 30, Sheriff Floyd Foote of Clinton County said he believed the body was not burned in the Lake Cowan weeds until the next day, since workmen in the area would have noticed it.

Dr. Cleveland also reported the fire had been deliberately kept going for two or more hours to produce the heavy charring.

The victim was identified by her husband who recognized car keys found under the body and a necklace found nearby.

She had last been seen driving away from work in a company car she planned to buy. It was later found abandoned in the shopping center.

Since separating from her husband, Mrs. Bergen had been living with her mother and nine-year-old daughter, Linda Louise. Her disappearance had been reported by her husband on Oct. 31, after he was told by his mother-in-law.

Mrs. Klumpp, a native of Cincinnati, divorced her husband, Robert, last year. The marriage was her second. She has four children, one by her first husband.

Temperatures as high as 189 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in Iraq.

Death Of Son Kept From Mother

Power To Be Buried Near Rudolph Valentino's Crypt

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The body of Tyrone Power will be interred near the crypt of Rudolph Valentino, but Power's mother, 70 and ill, won't be told of her son's death.

"The news would kill her," a maid said Tuesday.

The disclosure recalls the benevolent family conspiracy that kept the mother of crooner Russ Colombo ignorant of her son's death. She died in 1944 unaware the crooner accidentally had shot himself 10 years before while examining an old Civil War pistol.

Power's mother, who lives quietly in a Hollywood home with a nurse and a maid, suffered a stroke several years ago. "We don't have a radio in the house and we only let her watch certain programs on television," the maid said.

Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack on a movie location in Spain, was a devoted son. He visited his mother frequently while in Hollywood and sent her a constant flow of cards when away.

The body of the 44-year-old actor was scheduled to arrive by plane tonight accompanied by his widow, the former Debbie Ann Minardos. She expects a baby in February.

Funeral services were tentatively scheduled for Thursday noon.

However, a Catholic source here said that it is doubtful Power can be buried in the Catholic faith. Although born and baptized a Catholic, a source said, Power automatically excommunicated himself when he married the former Mrs. Minardos, a divorcee and the actor's third wife.

The church considers Power's marriage to his second wife, actress Linda Christian, still a valid marriage. His first marriage to actress Annabella was not valid in the eyes of the church.

Miss Christian arrived Tuesday night from Paris and New York. Miss Christian's and Power's two daughters, Romina Francesca, 8, and Taryn Stephanie, 6, arrived from Mexico City where they had been living with their grandmother. The children have not been told of their father's death.

Youth Dies In Wreck

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — One youth was killed and his two companions seriously injured Tuesday night when their car went out of control on Ohio 58 west of Spencer and turned over in a ditch. Killed was Edward Coe, 16. Admitted to Oberlin Hospital were Dennis Newton and Robert Stroupe, both 16. All were from Spencer.

downgrade at the second curve from the foot of the hill, police said. His car crossed the street to the east side, scraping a mail box, and then ran into the hillside, striking a large rock, officers said. Then the car went across the street, where it hit a guardrail post and a door flew open, throwing the driver clear. After Carnegie flew out, the car rolled 40 feet down the hillside, halting against the tree, officers said. The auto was demolished.

Police said Carnegie apparently was driving at a high rate of speed. However, the youth said he was traveling about 15 miles an hour when the gas feed of the car became stuck. When he applied the brakes, the car went out of control, he said.

As a result of a hit-skip crash on Harvey Ave. last night at 10:42, Harold W. Summers, 40, of 1161 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $300 and costs and given a 10-day jail term today in Municipal Court on a drunken driving charge. His operator's permit also was suspended for 6 months.

Police said Summers' 1955 eastbound sedan hit a parked 1956 auto owned by John LaCotta, 26, of 2216 Harvey Ave., damaging the left side extensively. A motorist who was following Summers obtained the license number and reported it to police. Officers said Summers was taken into custody at the state line, where he had pulled his car off the highway.

The charge of driving without a license was filed against Gerald F. Yates, 21, of Canton after his 1951 convertible hit a Dresden Ave. guardrail at 8:46 p. m. yesterday. Yates told police he was blinded by the headlights of an approaching car.

He is due for a Municipal Court hearing Monday at 9 a. m.

Another hit-skip crash Tuesday at 8:27 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. damaged a parked 1951 sedan owned by Howard D. Hughes, 812 Dewey Ave. Hughes told police he parked his auto and walked to a building across the street. As soon as he entered, he heard a crash and when he glanced out he saw his car had been damaged, he said.

A collision on Broadway 200 feet south of E. 5th St. at 4:04 p. m. Tuesday damaged a 1956 sedan driven by Adrienne Osborn, 23, of Cain and Harriet Sts. and a 1947 sedan operated by Joseph W. Kent, 17, of 721 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Wife Hurt As Driver Wrecks 'Unsafe' Truck

A New Castle woman was injured slightly when a tractor - trailer truck, termed unsafe by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol and driven by her husband, wrecked on Route 7 a mile and a half north of Stratton Tuesday at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Joann Walter, 24, was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of the forehead and a laceration of the scalp.

Investigation showed eight layers of the 12-ply tire were worn off. There was no sign of tread, officers said.

City Trucker Injured In Crash Fatal To Man

An East Liverpool trucker was hospitalized and a Uhrichsville motorist killed in a collision Tuesday at 8:45 a. m. on Route 8 near Dover.

Roy E. Abbuhl, 55, died when his car collided with the tractor-trailer rig driven by Darryl Hoppel, 21, of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., the State Highway Patrol said.

Hoppel is in the Dover Union Hospital with a possible concussion and an injured shoulder.

Hoppel, who hauls shingles for the T. K. Roofing Co. of Chester, was en route home after having delivered a load.

Abbuhl, an employe of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. in Canton, was Tuscarawas County's 13th traffic fatality of the year.

a divorce so that Mrs. Klumpp could marry the victim's husband, William.

She drove Mrs. Bergen to a spot in northern Hamilton County where "something happened and Mrs. Bergen was injured."

Mrs. Klumpp did not indicate whether the victim was alive at the time.

She said she put the body in the trunk of her car, drove home and after washing, went to teach her sewing class at an evening school.

The next day, Mrs. Klumpp bought a can of gasoline from a neighborhood station, drove to Lake Cowan and set the body afire.

Police said they recovered a gasoline can from the garage at Mrs. Klumpp's apartment Tuesday night.

Although Mrs. Berger disappeared on Oct. 30, Sheriff Floyd Foote of Clinton County said he believed the body was not burned in the Lake Cowan weeds until the next day, since workmen in the area would have noticed it.

Dr. Cleveland also reported the fire had been deliberately kept going for two or more hours to produce the heavy charring.

The victim was identified by her husband who recognized car keys found under the body and a necklace found nearby.

She had last been seen driving away from work in a company car she planned to buy. It was later found abandoned in the shopping center.

Since separating from her husband, Mrs. Bergen had been living with her mother and nine-year-old daughter, Linda Louise. Her disappearance had been reported by her husband on Oct. 31, after he was told by his mother-in-law.

Mrs. Klumpp, a native of Cincinnati, divorced her husband, Robert, last year. The marriage was her second. She has four children, one by her first husband.

Temperatures as high as 189 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in Iraq.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'll come right to the point and would appreciate it if you'd do the same.

I am eight months pregnant and I believe in being comfortable. My husband is a large man (weighs about 230) and his work trousers are just about right for me now. I do all my own housework and it's much simpler to slip into his khaki work pants than a house dress.

My husband told me in an almost insulting manner that I look like something from outer space. He has practically demanded that I put on a dress before he comes home from work. Frankly I think he's being very inconsiderate. Also I can't believe I look as awful as he says.

No one sees me this way but a few delivery boys. I think he should consider my comfort and keep his comments to himself. Right?—BIG BUT BUOYANT.

A woman eight months pregnant who is wearing her husband's khaki work pants must be something less than exquisite.

I'll come right to the point and say that I think you should wear a dress. Even though you are interested only in comfort, consider those who must look at you.

Maternity fashions are no longer ugly monstrosities. They are smart looking, comfortable and can be had in a variety of styles, fabrics and prices. Why don't you surrender, dear?

Love And Marriage

Dear Ann: Last winter I wrote you about my courtship with a widow. She set the date several times and backed out at the last minute. Then she'd call me at work and in the middle of the night to say she loved me dearly. I married this woman three months ago and now I have bigger problems.

I moved into her home and rent out my own place. I use the rent money to pay off her mortgage. She wanted a nicer car than I had so I went into debt to buy it. She promised to keep working until it was paid for. Now she has quit her job and denies saying any such thing.

During our three months of marriage she has sued me for divorce twice then withdrawn the suit and told her attorney I was a fine husband. She was very good to my 16-year-old son before we married. Now she's mean to him and finds fault constantly.

I know she's a nervous woman but she won't go to a doctor. In the meantime, my son is losing weight and is so unhappy he can't do his school work. I'm not in very good shape myself. What do you recommend?—M.P.O.

Too bad you didn't recognize that your wife's erratic behavior before marriage were symptoms of her illness. She changes of heart and frequent postponements should have been the tip-off.

Your wife needs medical help. If she refuses to seek it you're a fool to stick around and let her make you and your son ill, too. Give her a choice: She must see a doctor and try to get well or you and the boy will move back to your own home.

Snack Shop Set

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 16 and have a problem which I hope you won't think is too silly to print. Several of my girl friends are bothered about this, too.

Most of the fellows in our crowd are high school juniors and seniors and haven't got much money. When we go for something to eat after a movie or dance, how does a girl know what to order? What I mean is, how much to spend?

Can you give us a clue?—WILL ROGERS HIGH-HO'S.

Your best bet is to let the boy friend take the lead. Ask him how hungry he is. If he wants just a soda and french fries it's a subtle hint to curb your appetite till you get home.

You don't go with fellows so they'll feed you. This is the least important part of a date. Take your ordering cue from him and you'll both be much more comfortable at menu time.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Use Of School Library Told

Librarian Speaks To Wellsville PTA

The functions of the school library were explained by Mrs. Helen Welch at the McKinley Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night in the Wellsville School.

Mrs. Welch, librarian of the high school and Day Junior High School, emphasized the use of the school library in conjunction with the public library. She explained the Dewey decimal system used and told of the various types of fiction, non-fiction and reference books. The librarian expressed a desire for the inauguration of a library in the primary grades to acquaint the pupils with the catalogue cards. She added that much interest is being shown in the traveling science library and invited parents to visit it.

The program directed by Mrs. Ann Powell was based on the month's theme, "Let's Study Together." The Rev. E. E. Bacon of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church read from I Cor. 13 and spoke on the theme, "Mother and Child." Jack Lanam, president, appointed Mrs. Tom Davidson as sales tax chairman and Mrs. Esther Williams and Mrs. James Haile to serve with second grade homeroom mothers.

The group decided to plan Christmas treats for the school children. Mrs. Everett Bunfill, ways and means chairman, reported success of the bake sale Saturday. The committee also distributed Christmas candy and is taking orders for it to raise funds for the treasury.

The homeroom banner was won by the third grade of Mrs. Grace Fraser. The social hour was directed by second grade homeroom mothers, Mrs. Bunfill and Mrs. William Croskey.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'll come right to the point and would appreciate it if you'd do the same.

I am eight months pregnant and I believe in being comfortable. My husband is a large man (weighs about 230) and his work trousers are just about right for me now. I do all my own housework and it's much simpler to slip into his khaki work pants than a house dress.

My husband told me in an almost insulting manner that I look like something from outer space. He has practically demanded that I put on a dress before he comes home from work. Frankly I think he's being very inconsiderate. Also I can't believe I look as awful as he says.

No one sees me this way but a few delivery boys. I think he should consider my comfort and keep his comments to himself. Right?—BIG BUT BUOYANT.

A woman eight months pregnant who is wearing her husband's khaki work pants must be something less than exquisite.

I'll come right to the point and say that I think you should wear a dress. Even though you are interested only in comfort, consider those who must look at you.

Maternity fashions are no longer ugly monstrosities. They are smart looking, comfortable and can be had in a variety of styles, fabrics and prices. Why don't you surrender, dear?

Love And Marriage

Dear Ann: Last winter I wrote you about my courtship with a widow. She set the date several times and backed out at the last minute. Then she'd call me at work and in the middle of the night to say she loved me dearly. I married this woman three months ago and now I have bigger problems.

I moved into her home and rent out my own place. I use the rent money to pay off her mortgage. She wanted a nicer car than I had so I went into debt to buy it. She promised to keep working until it was paid for. Now she has quit her job and denies saying any such thing.

During our three months of marriage she has sued me for divorce twice then withdrawn the suit and told her attorney I was a fine husband. She was very good to my 16-year-old son before we married. Now she's mean to him and finds fault constantly.

I know she's a nervous woman but she won't go to a doctor. In the meantime, my son is losing weight and is so unhappy he can't do his school work. I'm not in very good shape myself. What do you recommend?—M.P.O.

Too bad you didn't recognize that your wife's erratic behavior before marriage were symptoms of her illness. She changes of heart and frequent postponements should have been the tip-off.

Your wife needs medical help. If she refuses to seek it you're a fool to stick around and let her make you and your son ill, too. Give her a choice: She must see a doctor and try to get well or you and the boy will move back to your own home.

Snack Shop Set

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 16 and have a problem which I hope you won't think is too silly to print. Several of my girl friends are bothered about this, too.

Most of the fellows in our crowd are high school juniors and seniors and haven't got much money. When we go for something to eat after a movie or dance, how does a girl know what to order? What I mean is, how much to spend?

Can you give us a clue?—WILL ROGERS HIGH-HO'S.

Your best bet is to let the boy friend take the lead. Ask him how hungry he is. If he wants just a soda and french fries it's a subtle hint to curb your appetite till you get home.

You don't go with fellows so they'll feed you. This is the least important part of a date. Take your ordering cue from him and you'll both be much more comfortable at menu time.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Use Of School Library Told

Librarian Speaks To Wellsville PTA

The functions of the school library were explained by Mrs. Helen Welch at the McKinley Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night in the Wellsville School.

Mrs. Welch, librarian of the high school and Day Junior High School, emphasized the use of the school library in conjunction with the public library. She explained the Dewey decimal system used and told of the various types of fiction, non-fiction and reference books. The librarian expressed a desire for the inauguration of a library in the primary grades to acquaint the pupils with the catalogue cards. She added that much interest is being shown in the traveling science library and invited parents to visit it.

The program directed by Mrs. Ann Powell was based on the month's theme, "Let's Study Together." The Rev. E. E. Bacon of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church read from I Cor. 13 and spoke on the theme, "Mother and Child." Jack Lanam, president, appointed Mrs. Tom Davidson as sales tax chairman and Mrs. Esther Williams and Mrs. James Haile to serve with second grade homeroom mothers.

The group decided to plan Christmas treats for the school children. Mrs. Everett Bunfill, ways and means chairman, reported success of the bake sale Saturday. The committee also distributed Christmas candy and is taking orders for it to raise funds for the treasury.

The homeroom banner was won by the third grade of Mrs. Grace Fraser. The social hour was directed by second grade homeroom mothers, Mrs. Bunfill and Mrs. William Croskey.

Youths Relate Visit To UN

Highlights of a week's visit to the United Nations headquarters in New York City were presented by David Buzzard and Richard Mautz, East Liverpool High School students, when the Rotary Club met Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

The two seniors made the trip under sponsorship of Rotary's International contracts committee and were selected by the school faculty, teachers and student body.

THE PAIR LEFT Pittsburgh Nov. 9 by plane and returned Friday night after visiting the UN headquarters and various points of interest in New York City, including the Empire State Building, Radio City Music Hall, Rockefeller Plaza, a Broadway production and Macy's, Sak's Fifth Ave., and other sites in the city.

Buzzard, president of the Senior Class and a member of the Key Club and National Honor Society, reported on the first three days of the trip and Mautz told of experiences during the final three days. Mautz, a member of the school band and orchestra for the past three years, was vice president of the Sophomore Class and president of the Junior Class.

While visiting the UN building on the East River, the youth sat in on various committee discussions and toured the building, hearing briefings on the different functions of committees and divisions from guides.

MAUTZ told Rotarians he was "especially fascinated" by the complex system which permits visitors to hear speakers through use of earphones while interpreters clarify their discussions. Discussions of the UN committees included topics on the Korean unification problem and another on the peaceful use of outer space — which they agreed was "the most interesting."

One of the most enlightening discussions they said was from an official of the UN's Farm and Agricultural Organization which functions to help develop the world's agricultural resources, Buzzard pointed out.

The official told them that "two-thirds of the world's population is underfed while one-sixth is not properly fed," Buzzard said. The FAO representative estimated the world's population at 3 billion and told them it is growing at the rate of "5,000 an hour."

AFTER VISITING the UN headquarters, Buzzard said he now "has a very clear impression of what is going on there" and that "the visit opened my eyes to its importance." He was impressed with the funds necessary for work being done by the United Nations Economic and Security Commission (UNESCO) and that of the United Nations International Children Emergency Fund (UNICEF).

At one of the hearings at the committee on peaceful use of outer space, Mautz told of hearing a Soviet official brag of Russian accomplishments, including putting the first satellite into orbit.

THE SOVIET delegate made "sharp accusations against the U. S.," Mautz said, but while he was speaking most of the delegates were "either walking around or reading newspapers."

But when Henry Cabot Lodge of the U. S. spoke, "everybody paid attention when he countered the Russian blasts," Mautz said.

Mautz said that while he was impressed with the importance of the UN, he was "disappointed in the tardiness of many delegates at important sessions." "Many were scheduled for 10:30 a. m. but didn't get under way until 11 or after," he said.

BESIDES VISITING the UN building, the youths also saw television productions of the "Garry Moore Show" and "To Tell the Truth," and visited Central Park and the zoo.

They were introduced by Ed Morse, program chairman. Each thanked the club for providing the opportunity to visit the world attraction and gave special thanks to William Ogilvie, who completed necessary travel arrangements. Guests were present from Midland and Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Victor George will present the program. The hostess chairman is Mrs. Joseph W. Bagosi.

It's overcooking cabbage and turnips that produces a strong flavor.

UOVDC Unit Airs District's Highway Jobs

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Good, But Not Original

Watching "The Winslow Boy" march its stately predetermined course toward final legal triumph on the du Pont show the other night, the only nagging annoyance in my mind was why David Susskind and du Pont settled on this play as one of the nine du Pont major efforts this year.

John Crosby

It's a very distinguished, very conservative play by Terrence Rattigan with a good track record on Broadway and in London. It was given a sound and careful adaptation by Sumner Locke Elliott and solid, rather stodgy direction by Alex Segal, with a brilliant cast headed by Frederic March, Florence Eldridge, Rex Thompson, Siobhan McKenna and Noel Willman.

-:-

BUT JUST the same I couldn't avoid the thought that putting this one on in preference to all other new or old drama was pretty much like investing in AT&T preferred, hardly a risky decision.

"The Winslow Boy" is the recreation of an actual legal case that shook England, about the guilt or innocence of a schoolboy accused of stealing a five-shilling money order.

The idea of a father's fighting this case clear to Parliament, bankrupting himself, wrecking his daughter's marriage plans and almost destroying himself in pursuit of abstract right is one dear to British jurisprudence and to British hearts.

In this day, when not only human rights but human dignity are getting short shrift everywhere, a gentle Victorian scene wherein a suitor asks a father for his daughter's hand and the financial considerations are carefully persued needs restating.

THIS IS THE SORT of role that is tailor-made for Frederic March, a Wisconsin boy who transformed himself into a rock of Victorian respectability and unshakable determination for the occasion.

Noel Willman was imported from England to play the part of an icy but brilliant barrister who won acquittal for the boy, and Siobham McKenna was a flame of passionate femininity as a suffragette.

It is one of Mr. Rattigan's ironies that the least concerned in all this pursuit of abstract justice was the boy himself, stiffly but quiet correctly played by Rex-Thompson.

I had great respect for the production but I must confess I was not deeply moved by it. I was much more moved by J. P. Miller's "Days of Wine and Roses" on "Playhouse 90," a much thinner but more contemporary and urgent story.

David Susskind, the resident genius of the du Pont series seriously resents any reminder that his otherwise splendid live dramatic productions are not noted for original scripts. But the fact is, they aren't.

-:-

THE OTHER DAY Susskind on his own program lined up seven of the best live dramatists TV has had—Paddy Chayevsky, Robert Allen Aurther, Sumner Locke Elliott, James Lee, J. P. Miller, Tad Mosel and David Shaw.

One and all, including Mr. Susskind, deplored the fact that good original TV dramas were not being written any more.

Susskind claimed "your market has shriveled" without bothering to explain that du Pont is part of that shrinking market. Later Mr. Susskind protested that he has approached all of the seven writers for new work and has been rebuffed.

Still, the fact remains that these seven are awfully well-known and well-fed writers at the present moment. If Susskind is looking for new talent, he—or someone—should try to cultivate the really young writers, kids in their 20s.

There are no fledgling writers I know of writing for TV and no one encouraging them to. The Chayevskys, after all, have been around quite awhile.

CRITICS, who have been getting shelled from all sides, were the subject of some more complaints from David Shaw, who declared that the critics avoided "the junk" and concentrated on the writers of serious live drama.

There's no question but this is a valid criticism and one that has worried a lot of us. But the fact is that this is our way of complimenting a show and a writer—by taking them seriously enough to criticize in the first place.

Crytzer Quits Post As Head Of Buy American Group

Earl Crytzer, 105 Harrison St., Newell, said today he has relinquished the chairmanship of the Buy American — Buy Union Label Committee of Trades and Labor Council because of accepting employment out of town.

Crytzer's successor will be another member of the committee, Mrs. Dorothee Prosser of Ephriam St.

Crytzer said the local campaign "is still in full swing and if people will keep on refusing to buy nothing but American - made merchandise we will realize our ultimate goal."

However, he charged that the "counters of some of the local stores are loaded with cheap toys plainly labeled 'Made in Japan,' 'Made in Germany' or showing that they originated in some other foreign country."

He said that "examination shows the merchandise is not worth the price—no matter how cheap."

Crytzer said his committee still is awaiting word from the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which previously agreed to appoint a committee to meet with the Trades Council representatives "to clarify any difficulties on either side."

Although he is stepping aside as chairman, Crytzer said he still is "very much interested in the campaign and will keep in close touch with the committee."

Labor Unit Disbands

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Its purpose accomplished, United Organized Labor of Ohio has disbanded on recommendation of its steering committee. Organized last November, its avowed purpose was to defeat the so-called right-to-work issue which appeared as a proposed constitutional amendment on Nov. 4 election ballots. The proposal was defeated.

If automobiles today were hand-constructed, as they were in the early part of this century, even the "low-priced" cars would have to be sold for at least $100,000 each for the manufacturer to come out ahead.

First Assembly To Hear Talk By Economist

The first of the year's assemblies sponsored by the Economic and Business Foundation will be held Friday at 11 a. m. at East Liverpool high school, Principal George Hargraves announced.

William E. Skadden, nationally-known lecturer and welfare leader will be the speaker. Dr. A. M. Paxson is director of the foundation.

A native of Sangamon County, Ill., Skadden received his education in public schools and the Illinois Business College. He began working in the Springfield streetcar barns when he was 12.

During World War II, he was executive secretary of the Rantoul Chamber of Commerce and served as chairman of the Travelers Aid Board, a member of the Champaign County Rationing Board, USO Council and the Executive Board of the Boy Scout Council.

In 1943 while at Rantoul he was assigned to special research and defense area projects by the Illinois War Council and returned to Springfield in 1944 to work with the Division for Delinquency Prevention of the Department of Public Welfare.

A year later he was named executive secretary of the Illinois Welfare Association, a private organization, and assisted in co-ordinating welfare programs, conducting training programs, supervising public relations and promoting and supporting welfare legislation.

He resigned from the association to enter the lecture field and has appeared before hundreds of organizations. He was a candidate for Congress from his district in 1950.

It is one of Mr. Rattigan's ironies that the least concerned in all this pursuit of abstract justice was the boy himself, stiffly but quiet correctly played by Rex Thompson.

I had great respect for the production but I must confess I was not deeply moved by it. I was much more moved by J. P. Miller's "Days of Wine and Roses" on "Playhouse 90," a much thinner but more contemporary and urgent story.

David Susskind, the resident genius of the du Pont series seriously resents any reminder that his otherwise splendid live dramatic productions are not noted for original scripts. But the fact is, they aren't.

-:-

THE OTHER DAY Susskind on his own program lined up seven of the best live dramatists TV has had—Paddy Chayevsky, Robert Allen Aurther, Sumner Locke Elliott, James Lee, J. P. Miller, Tad Mosel and David Shaw.

One and all, including Mr. Susskind, deplored the fact that good original TV dramas were not being written any more.

Susskind claimed "your market has shriveled" without bothering to explain that du Pont is part of that shrinking market. Later Mr. Susskind protested that he has approached all of the seven writers for new work and has been rebuffed.

Still, the fact remains that these seven are awfully well-known and well-fed writers at the present moment. If Susskind is looking for new talent, he—or someone—should try to cultivate the really young writers, kids in their 20s.

There are no fledgling writers I know of writing for TV and no one encouraging them to. The Chayevskys, after all, have been around quite awhile.

CRITICS, who have been getting shelled from all sides, were the subject of some more complaints from David Shaw, who declared that the critics avoided "the junk" and concentrated on the writers of serious live drama.

There's no question but this is a valid criticism and one that has worried a lot of us. But the fact is that this is our way of complimenting a show and a writer—by taking them seriously enough to criticize in the first place.

Crytzer Quits Post As Head Of Buy American Group

Earl Crytzer, 105 Harrison St., Newell, said today he has relinquished the chairmanship of the Buy American —Buy Union Label Committee of Trades and Labor Council because of accepting employment out of town.

Crytzer's successor will be another member of the committee, Mrs. Dorothee Prosser of Ephriam St.

Crytzer said the local campaign "is still in full swing and if people will keep on refusing to buy nothing but American - made merchandise we will realize our ultimate goal."

However, he charged that the "counters of some of the local stores are loaded with cheap toys plainly labeled 'Made in Japan,' 'Made in Germany' or showing that they originated in some other foreign country."

He said that "examination shows the merchandise is not worth the price—no matter how cheap."

Crytzer said his committee still is awaiting word from the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which previously agreed to appoint a committee to meet with the Trades Council representatives "to clarify any difficulties on either side."

Although he is stepping aside as chairman, Crytzer said he still is "very much interested in the campaign and will keep in close touch with the committee."

If automobiles today were hand-constructed, as they were in the early part of this century, even the "low-priced" cars would have to be sold for at least $100,000 each for the manufacturer to come out ahead.

Labor Unit Disbands

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Its purpose accomplished, United Organized Labor of Ohio has disbanded on recommendation of its steering committee. Organized last November, its avowed purpose was to defeat the so-called right-to-work issue which appeared as a proposed constitutional amendment on Nov. 4 election ballots. The proposal was defeated.

First Assembly To Hear Talk By Economist

The first of the year's assemblies sponsored by the Economic and Business Foundation will be held Friday at 11 a. m. at East Liverpool high school, Principal George Hargraves announced.

William E. Skadden, nationally-known lecturer and welfare leader will be the speaker. Dr. A. M. Paxson is director of the foundation.

A native of Sangamon County, Ill., Skadden received his education in public schools and the Illinois Business College. He began working in the Springfield streetcar barns when he was 12.

During World War II, he was executive secretary of the Rantoul Chamber of Commerce and served as chairman of the Travelers Aid Board, a member of the Champaign County Rationing Board, USO Council and the Executive Board of the Boy Scout Council.

In 1943 while at Rantoul he was assigned to special research and defense area projects by the Illinois War Council and returned to Springfield in 1944 to work with the Division for Delinquency Prevention of the Department of Public Welfare.

A year later he was named executive secretary of the Illinois Welfare Association, a private organization, and assisted in co-ordinating welfare programs, conducting training programs, supervising public relations and promoting and supporting welfare legislation.

He resigned from the association to enter the lecture field and has appeared before hundreds of organizations. He was a candidate for Congress from his district in 1950.

between that of a jury member and my salary'."

Lockhart said he then reported the conversations to City Solicitor Joseph Cooper. Lockhart added Cooper and Brokaw had a tape recorder placed in the store on Nov. 9 by Don Eckert of the Camera Mart. Lockhart said he then called Cunningham and asked him if he had anything further to say. "He said he didn't on the phone but 'would come down and see me'."

Cunningham came in about 6:40 p. m. and left about 7:10 p. m., he said.

The tape recording of the alleged conversation between Lockhart and Cunningham was brought into the courtroom and was being played at 11:30 a. m.

Under cross-examination by Alexander, Lockhart said he resides at Wellsville — 419 15th St. — but rooms in East Liverpool. He said he never voted in East Liverpool.

The trial was recessed at 10:20 as Alexander asked to check a copy of the jury list.

The playing of the tape recording of the conversation between Cunningham and Lockhart was slated yesterday afternoon after Cunningham told Prosecutor Brokaw, "I don't care if you play it."

But Atty. Alexander objected, and Judge Buzzard ruled there had been no foundation laid for the use of the recording.

"Until you can show where and when this recording was taken, it is not admissable," Judge Buzzard told Brokaw. The prosecutor offered to take the stand, but Alexander objected, pointing out the defense was now presenting its case. The judge agreed, advising Brokaw he may offer the recording in rebuttal.

About 40 onlookers had filled the courtroom, expecting to hear the recording.

Brokaw then continued his cross-examination of Cunningham.

"Did you talk to Lockhart at Sevy's Drugstore?" "Not to my knowledge." "Do you recall telling him he was called for jury duty?" "No." "Do you remember pointing out his name in the Review after he said he didn't know he was called?" "No, I don't."

"Do you remember talking to him at McBurney's Drugstore where he works, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 9?" Brokaw asked. Cunningham said, "I might have gone in to pick up some film."

Q—"Do you remember saying to him, 'You might think the law is honest, but it is the most dishonest thing I ever saw'!" A—"I don't recall."

Q—"Do you remember saying something about even if you were innocent you wouldn't have a chance?" A—"I don't remember that."

Q. — "Do you remember saying you would 'be willing to pay my share?' " A — "I don't remember." Q—"Do you remember saying 'you won't receive anything until after it is all over?' " A—"No, I don't remember."

Yesterday morning, when asked about his conversations with Lockhart, Cunningham declared, "I knew that man was vicious." Under cross - examination in the afternoon, the prosecutor asked him what he had meant.

Cunningham replied, "Yes, I said that because I knew I couldn't trust him a long time before."

Q—"Do you remember last Saturday night when Chief Radeschi arrested you?" A—"Yes." Q—"Do you remember saying to him, "What do you suppose they want with me. Do they want me to start talking?' " A—"I don't remember that."

Q—"Did you say, 'Maybe I will start talking, and there may be more than police involved?' " A—"I don't remember saying that." Q—"What did you mean?" A—"I don't recall saying that."

Atty. Samual Fekett questioned Cunningham about the jury list, asking him if there were a Donald Lockhart on the list. Cunningham said there was no such name on the list, but there was a Donald Lockwood listed.

Fekett asked, "What did this man ask you on the telephone?" The prosecution objected that the answer would be hearsay. Assistant Prosecutor Warren Bettis commented, "We'll be glad to play the gist of the testimony on tape." Atty. Alexander said, "I object to Mr. Bettis' statements." Bettis said, "I don't know what was objectionable," and Alexander countered, "You ought to learn."

Bettis replied, "Maybe I would if I studied law with you long enough." Judge Buzzard requested counsel to "get on with the law suit."

Under further questioning by Alexander, Cunningham said he was suffering from a "bad back" in March 1952, and was receiving treatment from a doctor.

"I was taped from the shoulders," he said, and offered to read a statement from the doctor, but the prosecution objected. Judge Buzzard said the physician could be called to testify if the defense wished, but the statement could not be read by the defendant.

"Could you, with such a back condition, crawl through a coal hole to enter Burbick's Hardware?" Alexander asked, "No, I could not," Cunningham answered.

Raimond followed Cunningham on the witness stand, and his testimony was marked by warnings from Judge Buzzard against attempting to insert testimony of an alibi nature. Fr. William Slipski of Youngstown, in the absence of the jury Monday, reported Raimond had been with him March 1-3, 1952, in Youngstown.

The priest's testimony was ruled inadmissable because the defense had failed to comply with the law in filing a notice of alibi three days prior to the start of the trial.

In questioning Raimond yesterday, Alexander asked, "Were you with Robert McBane March 2, 1952?" "No," the Newell man answered. "Do you know where you were that night? "Yes, I do."

McBane, ex-officer who admitted entering the hardware store, testified last week he was in the store with the three defendants.

Alexander asked, "Do you know where you were Sunday, March 2, 1952?" Raimond started to answer, "Yes, I was—" but Brokaw and Bettis objected.

Judge Buzzard reprimanded Alexander, "If this were the first time you tried to bring in such evidence, I could understand it. This is reprehensible. The court has ruled on this, yet you continue in the same line."

Alexander declared, "If the court pleases, I object to the remarks of the court." "That may be," Judge Buzzard said, and instructed the jury to disregard the reply of the witness.

"Do you know where you were March 3, 1952?" Alexander asked Raimond. "Yes," he replied. "Where were you?" Bettis objected, declaring Alexander was "attempting to influence the jurors." Bettis commented, "We have a job to do, too." "Well do it," Alexander said sharply.

Raimond went on to testify about his acquaintance with Richey Wallace, Toronto jeweler and pawnbroker, to whom Raimond said he had sold a great number of items.

Wallace was slated to be a prosecution witness last week, but apparently left home and has not yet been located.

Raimond said he sold a movie projector to Wallace March 3, 1952, a projector which he said McBane had asked him to sell. He said he had taken it to Wallace in February 1952, but Wallace didn't want to pay the price McBane wanted. McBane lowered the price, Raimond said, and Wallace bought it March 3.

Raimond said he sold other items to Wallace for McBane or from various trade deals the Newell man conducted.

Raimond said he became suspicious of McBane around 1954-55, and didn't have much to do with him after that.

Questioned by Alexander about his acquaintance with Carroll, Raimond said he could not recall ever being in a cruiser with him. He said he knew Carroll, but didn't have much contact with him. "In fact, I didn't like him," Raimond said, "we are two different types."

Raimond said he knew Cunningham well, and had been in the cruiser with him at various times.

In cross-examination by Brokaw, Raimond said the projector he sold to Wallace March 3, 1952, was the same one he had offered him in February. "In effect, you are saying Mr. Burbick was mistaken in stating the projector was the one stolen March 2, 1952?" Brokaw asked. "Someone is wrong," Raimond replied.

Raimond, at Brokaw's request, read the serial number on the purchase card of Wallace and the serial number on the projector, and said they were same.

Brokaw questioned him about some paint sprayers he had sold or traded, and whether one of them hadn't been taken from the Pearl China Co. Raimond said he had sold some sprayers, but none was stolen as far as he knew.

"What about your denying in questioning in 1956 that you ever sold anything to Richey Wallace" Raimond answered, "I didn't trust McBane, was suspicious of him, and didn't know what was happening. The way they treated me after my arrest, I didn't want to tell them anything at the questioning, I wouldn't tell them nothing — I wouldn't tell them the time of day."

"When did you get suspicious of McBane?" "When Lt. (George) Kidd almost killed him in the Coca Cola Co. plant. He got a call someone was breaking into the plant, and when he came back he told me, 'Oh my God, I almost shot another policeman'."

Brokaw asked, "Did you ever talk to Bishop about these cases?" "Yes." Dallas Bishop, former special officer, was acquitted on one and convicted on another police burglary indictment, and has appealed.

"When was the last time you talked with him." Raimond said Bishop came to his home last week. "Did you talk about this case? "I don't remember what we talked about."

Carroll went on the stand shortly before court recessed yesterday afternoon. He denied entering the hardware store and said he was on East End cruiser duty midnight to 8 a. m. March 2, 1952.

Asked by Atty. Fekett if he had talked to McBane since, Carroll said he met him on the street once, and asked him why he had "told lies about me" and had involved him in the charges.

He said McBane replied to the effect, he had told his story and was going to stick with it. He said Cunningham had come up to them a short time later, but he could not recall that Cunningham had said anything.

Fekett asked, "Do you know Paul Coppock?" "Yes," Carroll said, explaining he had telephoned Coppock to check on the character and neutrality of some prospective jurors. "Did you ask him to contact any jurors in this case?" Carroll said, "I know better than that."

Firemen, Police Praised On Work At W. 6th St. Fire

Both the fire and police departments received letters Tuesday from Atty. Paul Tobin praising them for their work last Friday when a fire broke out in the basement of the lawyer's office in a W. 6th St. building.

Tobin sent the letters to Fire Chief Charles Bryan and Police Chief Americo Radeschi, with copies to Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti.

In his letter to the fire department he said "the fast and efficient work in extinguishing the fire was responsible for saving the entire building." It also averted possible loss of life among tenants of upstairs apartments, he added.

Tobin added that firemen told him they were able to enter the smoke - filled building readily because the department is equipped with new Scott Air-Paks.

"I hope the people of East Liverpool in the future will support any ways and means of keeping our fire department up to the high standards we now enjoy," the attorney's letter added.

He praised the police department for its co-operation in fighting the fire, including control of crowds and traffic and removal of records.

Reds' Berlin Move Studied

Big 3 Gets Set To Cope With Transfer

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Big Three today got set to cope with the impending transfer to the East German Communists of Russia's control over Allied supply lines to West Berlin.

The Russian action was expected to touch off the most serious Berlin crisis since the 1948-49 blockade.

The United States, Britain and France were reliably reported to have prepared steps to take if the East Germans begin controlling Allied military truck convoys or trains. The East Germans already regulate civilian traffic from West Germany.

Western officials declined to say what Allied soldiers would do if checkpoints now manned by Russians are turned over to representatives of the East German regime which the Allies refuse to recognize.

But experts here believe the Allies will react with these steps:

1. Formally refuse to accept East German controls.

2. Protest strongly against a one-sided Russian withdrawal from the four-power occupation agreements drawn up after World War II.

3. If left no choice, yield to East German controls while making it clear that this does not constitute recognition of the Communist regime. East Germans manning checkpoints would be regarded simply as agents of the Russians.

An alternative would be for the Allies to attempt an airlift similar to the one that broke the Soviet blockade in 1949.

Then, however, the Allies had to supply the 2,200,000 people of West Berlin. With civilian traffic not involved this time, an airlift would only have to supply the approximately 10,000 Western troops and civilian officials and families in West Berlin.

More Ore Carriers

CLEVELAND (AP)—More iron ore carriers were operating on the Great Lakes during November than were operating at the same time a year ago. A survey by the M. A. Hanna Co. announced Tuesday shows 145 of the Great Lakes's 248 ships still in operation on Nov. 15. A year ago on Nov. 15 there were 132 ships still in service as the Great Lakes navigation seasons neared its close.

Firemen Rescue Cat From Pipe In Heating System

A new twist in the duties of a fireman was registered at mid-morning today when the local smokeeaters rescued a cat, not from a tree or utility pole, but from inside a furnace pipe.

Bobby Young, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young, 920 Avondale St., had removed the register to recover a marble he dropped.

Mrs. Young said she entered the room to find the boy feeling around in the cold air run. She then discovered the cat missing. When asked where it was, Bobby just pointed down the pipe.

The cat could be heard "mewing" and Mrs. Young notified the fire department. The emergency truck was sent to the scene at 10:48.

About 15 minutes later firemen reached the animal by removing a section of the pipe in the cellar after failing to coax it out or scare it out by banging on the pipes.

30 Midland Policemen Will Get Certificates

About 30 Midland policemen will receive certificates of qualification with the .38 caliber revolver during an awards dinner to be held Tuesday, Police Chief Ed Stefl, announced.

The dinner will be held at 6:30 p. m. at Deramo's Restaurant. Members of the borough Council have been invited.

There will be certificates of expert, sharpshooter or marksman awarded to policemen who qualified in the Pennsylvania School of Public Instruction conducted in August and September at the Sportsmen's Farm.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—The Allied Bonding Co. of Miami, Fla., tried unsuccessfully Tuesday for the release on bond of Stuart Sutor, accused of trying to fly arms to Cuban rebels. U. S. Commissioner L. T. Eddy refused to release Sutor on the ground Allied Bonding is not licensed to do business in West Virginia. Sutor landed his plane, carrying guns said to be stolen from an armory in Canton, Ohio, at Morgantown Nov. 4. He was arrested and charged with interstate transportation of stolen property and violation on the National Firearms Act.

Reds' Berlin Move Studied

Big 3 Gets Set To Cope With Transfer

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Big Three today got set to cope with the impending transfer to the East German Communists of Russia's control over Allied supply lines to West Berlin.

The Russian action was expected to touch off the most serious Berlin crisis since the 1948-49 blockade.

The United States, Britain and France were reliably reported to have prepared steps to take if the East Germans begin controlling Allied military truck convoys or trains. The East Germans already regulate civilian traffic from West Germany.

Western officials declined to say what Allied soldiers would do if checkpoints now manned by Russians are turned over to representatives of the East German regime which the Allies refuse to recognize.

But experts here believe the Allies will react with these steps:

1. Formally refuse to accept East German controls.

2. Protest strongly against a one-sided Russian withdrawal from the four-power occupation agreements drawn up after World War II.

3. If left no choice, yield to East German controls while making it clear that this does not constitute recognition of the Communist regime. East Germans manning checkpoints would be regarded simply as agents of the Russians.

Greenberg Sells Indians Stock For Reported $800,000

Daley Leads Stockholders In Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP) — A battle between two groups of Cleveland Indians stockholders is over. And after 10 years in the Tribe's front office, Hank Greenberg is bowing out.

A faction headed by Greenberg, former Tribe general manager, sold out Tuesday to the majority stockholders led by William R. Daley, Indians' board chairman. The action came at a meeting of the board of directors.

The purchase price for the stock of Greenberg and two brothers, Charles M. and Andrew Baxter, was rumored at $800,000, but there was no official confirmation. Greenberg and the Baxter brothers will resign as directors of the club after details of the purchase are completed.

Thus Greenberg will terminate an affiliation with the club which dates back to 1948 when he was hired by Bill Veeck.

"These have been the 10 most wonderful years of my life," Greenberg said as the directors meeting ended.

"I have enjoyed every minute of the time I spent with the Indians and I'm sorry to leave."

Daley, the club's largest stockholder issued the following statement:

"For some time it has been obvious that differences of opinion existed among the directors of the Cleveland Indians. Obviously, for good baseball in Cleveland this situation could not continue.

"In order to bring about a harmonious conclusion for all concerned, it became necessary for one group to purchase the shares of the other. This has now been accomplished."

Greenberg and the Baxters had been critical of the Indians' operation and demanded the resignation of the club's high-salaried officers. Apparently they meant George Medinger and Nate Dolin, vice presidents.

At the board meeting, Greenberg said, his group tried to purchase Daley's 35 per cent interest in the Indians.

"It became quite clear," Greenberg said, 'that Daley wouldn't sell and so there was little point of continuing the dispute."

The former general manager, who gave way a year ago to the present general manager, Frank Lane, said he wished to remain in baseball. However, Greenberg said he had no definite plans.

Football Party Set Saturday By Nonpareil

Plans for the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's annual party for the varsity football team and coaches were completed when the club met Tuesday night in the YMCA. H. A. Tullis, president, presided.

Don Burbick, general chairman, reported the Potter varsity will attend an informal party Saturday night at 8 at the YMCA Pine Ridge Camp with dancing and indoor activities in the lodge to be featured. A bonfire is planned and beefburgers will be among the refreshments.

Club members have agreed to provide transportation for team members and their dates. Those desiring transportation are to meet at Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Burbick reported.

Other reports were presented by Had Connell, treasurer, Kenny Knowles, secretary, Dick Forzano, membership co-chairman, and Ed Hester, football banquet chairman.

Forzano announced that this year's sale of memberships has hit the 435 mark with a goal set at 500. Hester said the annual football banquet is being planned for early December.

Head football coach Lou Venditti discussed briefly last week's East Liverpool - Alliance game and screened movies of the contest. Venditti told the group that although he was "disappointed" with the outcome of the Alliance game, he thought the team gave a good showing the first six games of the season while playing in tough competition. Movies revealed that end Ron Prince had been clipped on the long touchdown run of Aviator halfback Bob Brown early in the second half which turned the tide in favor of Alliance. Venditti also reported that junior halfback Dave Zelch had suffered a broken nose in the game.

As the Alliance game concluded the football season, Venditti extended appreciation to club members for supporting the team this year, as did Merrill Hall, high school athletic director.

Tullis announced meetings will continue every Tuesday night throughout the basketball season.

To Fix Race Dates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Racing Commission will meet Tuesday, Oct. 25, to fix racing dates for next season. At a meeting in Millersburg Tuesday night the commission refused to reinstate jockey William Jewell, barred from Ohio tracks two years ago for having in his possession electric batteries.

Hunting pressure was slight on opening day, perhaps because intermittent rains watered down the enthusiasm.

Pheasants and rabbits sat tight and they moved only to get out from under the hunters feet. Under such conditions, a hunter has to tramp an area thoroughly or pass up game he never sees.

One group of hunters in Knox Township told me they saw 9 rabbits and about 30 pheasants, yet they had only one rabbit among the four. Naturally, I wanted to know what was the matter. A spokesman said, "We are just plain lousy shots." He said it, I didn't.

RACCOON hunters did all right. From all reports, it was no trouble to get a ring - tail going. And in some instances a whole family of four was put up one tree. Each hunter is allowed four 'coon and not just four to the party, as some continue to believe.

Pheasants were scarce on the Zepernick area. The habitat has been improved considerably with plenty of grasses and legumes and long strips of multi - flora rose plantings now in evidence.

Travel lanes have been provided and openings by strip - mowing gives the hunter a shot at pheasants and rabbits once they get moving.

FROM ALL reports deer are more plentiful in the county this year. Not only has the highway kill increased, but various individuals report seeing anywhere from 1 to 7 deer in spots all over the county.

Two bow hunters at Echo Dell reported having flushed 7 deer, although they did not get to draw their bows.

Earl Ressler, the Mahoning County game protector, had very little time to check hunters and make a bag check of the game.

The hauling away of highway-killed deer and the answering of complaints of violations in practically all parts of the county kept him on the jump. One deer was shot and still warm when he arrived. The violator got away, but he didn't get the venison.

IN MY county, hunters told me I was a few minutes late as two older men and three young fellows had just taken off after having shot hen pheasants and quail for several hours.

The violations I ran across hardly justified arrests. The law is the law so far as that goes, but I did not see the willful type all game protectors do not hesitate to order into court.

My county judges have been very good in seeing that the few cases I have had before them are penalized accordingly.

In some of the larger counties, the judges seem to think that game violations are more or less trivial when the lineup of violators includes robbery, murder or rape. Following these cases, a game protector brings in a violator shooting at ducks after the legal hours.

After all, game law violators should be dealt with according to law and the importance of wildlife as one of our major natural resources should not be de-emphasized.

Five District Cage Squads Set For Toronto Preview

Five area high school basketball teams — including East Liverpool's Potters and Wellsville's Tigers — are scheduled to participate in the annual Upper Ohio Valley cage preview Saturday night, Nov. 22, at the Toronto High gymnasium.

Also named to participate in the abbreviated contests are Toronto's Red Knight, Jefferson Union and Steubenville Central Catholic's Crusaders.

As has been the usual custom—each team playing two quarters against different opponents — the schedule will be:

Toronto vs. Jefferson Union at 7:30 p. m., Jefferson Union vs. Catholic Central at 7:50, Catholic Central vs. Wellsville at 8:10, Wellsville vs. East Liverpool at 8:30 and East Liverpool vs. Toronto at 8:50.

The preview is being sponsored by Toronto's Kiwanis Club under the direct supervision of the Toronto High School Athletic Board, sanctioned by the State Athletic Board. Registered officials will be used.

Funds raised by the preview will be used by the Toronto club toward child welfare work. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Coaches and teams will be met at the entrance of the Toronto gym and will be treated to a lunch following the preview. Last year's preview at Wellsville drew about 700 fans.

Red Schoendienst Determined To Play Again In Spite Of TB

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, has tuberculosis but his wife said he is determined to play again in the major leagues.

Schoendienst's personal physician, Dr. Ray Martin, said a series of tests disclosed beyond a doubt that the veteran ballplayer has TB and probably will not be able to play next year.

But Schoendienst's wife, Mary, said Tuesday night that he was "in very good spirits and determined to play again."

Red is in Mount St. Rose Sanitarium here. For a week or 10 days he will not be permitted to receive telephone calls or visitors except members of his immediate family. Dr. Martin said "he's a sick man and needs bed rest."

The doctor made no estimate on how long it would take Schoendienst to recuperate but said he was "optimistic about a full recovery."

Braves officials said the team would miss the slim infielder but expressed confidence they could win without him.

Manager Fred Haney said three Braves are second base material, Mel Roach, Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise. Roach, recovering from surgery to repair torn knee ligaments, apparently is the most likely replacement.

Schoendienst, 35 and veteran of 13 years in the majors, led the Braves to their 1957 world championship. He was bothered virtually all last season with a chest cold which developed into pluerisy. He also injured a rib and broke a finger. He batted only .262.

In spite of his rundown condition, he played a splendid 1958 World Series, batting .300 and fielding well.

LSU, Bucks, California Grid Choices

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the week that any bump or bruise suffered on a football field becomes a knightly coat of arms — a regal black badge surrounded by a fringe of royal purple. That's because of tradition, old chap.

Picking the winners, traditionally of course:

California over Stanford: This is known as the Big Game on the West Coast but this time it is big only for the Golden Bears.

Louisiana State over Tulane: LSU will be Tulane's guest but what Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson will do to the Tigers is a caution.

Missouri over Kansas: Both the coaches in this one are new. The things they will see will surprise them.

Southern California over UCLA: San Francisco had an earthquake once, Los Angeles survives this collision each autumn.

Elsewhere: Iowa over Notre Dame, Southern California over UCLA, Florida over Florida State, North Carolina over Duke, Tennessee over Kentucky, Boston University over Connecticut, Holy Cross over Marquette, Dartmouth over Princeton, Rutgers over Columbia, Villanova over Quantico Marines.

Detroit over Dayton, Northwestern over Illinois, North Texas State over Louisville, Michigan State over Kansas State, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Purdue over Indiana, Wichita over George Washington, Wisconsin over Minnesota.

Alabama over Memphis State, Auburn over Wake Forest, Clemson over Boston College, Davidson over Furman, Georgia over The Citadel, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Maryland over Virginia, Syracuse over West Virginia.

Southern Methodist over Baylor, Texas Tech over Arkansas.

Giardello Aims For Title Bout In Webb Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight contender Joey Giardello aims to enlist public support tonight in his campaign to win a shot at the title.

"If I put up a good fight, maybe the people will help me," says Joey who goes against Spider Webb at the Cow Palace in a 10-rounder televised by ABC at 10 p.m. EST.

Giardello, 28, is ranked No. 3 contender in the 160-pound Division by both Ring magazine and the National Boxing Assn.

Webb, 26, a former Olympic boxer from Chicago, holds the No. 4 spot in the NBA ratings and No. 5 in Ring magazine's.

Both are good boxers with a punch. Webb showed his here last January when he knocked out tough Rory Calhoun in the fourth round after being down twice himself.

Webb has fought 33 times with 29 victories and has stopped 15. Giardello has 77 victories, 14 losses, 5 draws and 1 no-decision match.

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reports from Miami say that Syracuse is the likely choice to oppose the Big Eight representative — most likely Oklahoma — in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

But at West Virginia, there's a non-poet type named Longfellow who could put the stamp of disapproval on Syracuse's post-season ambitions. He could turn the Mountaineers' so-so season into a successful one if they can defeat the Orange this Saturday.

The 21-year-old with the literary name is Dick Longfellow, senior quarterback and the Southern Conference's new offense leader. He picked up the Mountaineers, after four straight losses following an opening game victory, to three wins and a tie in their last four games.

Longfellow, a mite at 5 foot 9, has gained 1,127 yards in 9 games to overtake Virginia Tech's Bill Holsclaw, who led all season. He has completed 72 of 139 passes for 869 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Another bowl hopeful, Clemson, took a verbal prod from Coach Frank Howard as it prepped for Saturday's game with Boston College.

"They talk like they wanna' go to a bowl," he said, "but now I'd like to see 'em play that way. We just don't look good at all.

Oklahoma and Nebraska, which clash Saturday to decide the Big Eight title officially, both worked on defense Tuesday.

Iowa Coach Forest Evasheveski moved Jeff Langston to No. 1 left end and Capt. John Nocera worked at fullback in place of the injured Dan Horn.

At North Carolina, where the Tar Heels are still hoping for a bowl bid, things were settled down today after a verbal scuffle between Tarheel Coach Jim Tatum and North Carolina Coach Earle Edwards over eligibility of N. C. State tackle Dick Reynolds.

Tatum questioned Reynolds' eligibility when he learned the sophomore had agreed to play pro ball with the Baltimore Colts.

However, this happened when Reynolds played for the Camp Lejune Marines and his eligibility was approved by Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner Jim Weaver.

Ohio State's Bob White Voted As Back Of Week

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob White, Ohio State's fullback, has been named The Associated Press Back of the Week by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters for his strong performance against Iowa.

The 210-pounder hammered the Iowa defenses for 209 yards on 33 carries while scoring 3 touchdowns in Ohio State's 38-28 victory. He bore the brunt of the attack lugging the ball on 11 of 14 plays during the decisive 61-yard touchdown march.

White had to share the glory with Don Clark who carried 15 times for 152 yards although neither matched the yardage total of the losers' Randy Duncan, who made 246 yards net with a passing barrage.

Several other collegians received support in the balloting.

Pete Dawkins, Army's fleet halfback, scored three times in a 26-0 victory over Villanova. He broke open a scoreless game with an 80-yard punt return, raced 46 yards with a Joe Caldwell pass on a great exhibition of faking. Another 48-yard pass play from Caldwell brought the ball to the 5 from where Dawkins took it over.

Charley Milstead, a doubtful starter for Texas A&M against Rice because of a knee injury, played 50 minutes, passed for a touchdown and scored twice, gaining 185 yards. He also kicked 4 extra points in the 28-21 upset over the Owls.

California's Joe Kapp passed and ran for 205 yards against Washington. He was 66 per cent of California's total offense.

Strong support from the South came for Alex Hawkins of South Carolina for his performance against Virginia. His running sparked Carolina's first TD drive, a 45-yard return of an interception broke a tie and his catch kept alive a march for a final TD.

Larry Naviaux of Nebraska drew favorable mention for his 2 southpaw touchdown passes in a 14-6 upset of Pittsburgh. Pete Hart of Hardin-Simmons netted 125 yards while scoring 3 touchdowns against West Texas State.

In the Ivy League area, Jake Crouthamel of Dartmouth scored 3 times and gained 150 yards in 15 carries against Cornell. Frank Finney, Brown's fine passer, scored 3 touchdowns, passed for another and gained 164 yards against Harvard.

Others who got votes were:

Wolves' Incentive High For Upset Against OSU

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Seldom has Michigan had more incentive than for its game Saturday with Ohio State.

The Wolverines, to a man, want a victory as a going-away present for Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. He retires after the annual engagement with the Buckeyes, replaced by backfield coach Bump Elliott.

The Wolverines can erase a season of torment and ridicule by upsetting Ohio State. Two games stand out as most important at Michigan.

One is Michigan State. The Wolverines tied the Spartans early in the season when such a stalemate was considered an accomplishment.

The other is Ohio State. By beating the Buckeyes, Michigan's worst season since 1936 magically would turn into a success.

Michigan, 2-5-1 for the season, is eighth in the Big Ten, lowest in 22 years. The Wolverines two triumphs came over Southern California and Minnesota, each by one point. Navy, Northwestern, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana have defeated the Wolverines.

Michigan's eight foes have amassed 191 points, the most points scored against a Wolverine team in the school's 79-year gridiron history.

"This has been an unfortunate season," said Oosterbaan. "I thought before it started that we'd have a fairly good team if we got breaks and no injuries.

The injuries began haunting the Wolverines by the third game.

Fullback and captain John Herrnstein was lost for the campaign with a knee injury against Navy. From then on, Michigan wasn't the same team. Herrnstein, from Chillicothe, Ohio, was considered the peer of the Buckeye's Bob White.

"When we lost Herrnie," said Oosterbaan, "we had to start revising our attack. The whole offense was built around him."

Then after the Minnesota game, Herrnstein's replacement, Tony Rio, was lost in a football gambling card scandal.

The single wing was used less and less. Michigan reverted to the wing T for the most part. Quarterback Bob Ptacek of Cleveland and Halfback Darrell Harper carried almost the entire offensive load.

Ptacek was injured early in the Northwestern game and the Wildcats crashed through for a 55-24 victory. He outdueled Iowa's Randy Duncan 38 minutes before he was overcome with fatigue. The Hawkeyes rolled for three touchdowns in the final 22 minutes and a 37-14 victory, their first since 1924 over Michigan.

Harper was hurt in the early moments of the Illinois game and Michigan was upset 21-8. He made only a token appearance in last week's Indiana game and Michigan was upset again 8-6.

Greenberg Sells Indians Stock For Reported $800,000

Daley Leads Stockholders In Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP) — A battle between two groups of Cleveland Indians stockholders is over. And after 10 years in the Tribe's front office, Hank Greenberg is bowing out.

A faction headed by Greenberg, former Tribe general manager, sold out Tuesday to the majority stockholders led by William R. Daley, Indians' board chairman. The action came at a meeting of the board of directors.

The purchase price for the stock of Greenberg and two brothers, Charles M. and Andrew Baxter, was rumored at $800,000, but there was no official confirmation. Greenberg and the Baxter brothers will resign as directors of the club after details of the purchase are completed.

Thus Greenberg will terminate an affiliation with the club which dates back to 1948 when he was hired by Bill Veeck.

"These have been the 10 most wonderful years of my life," Greenberg said as the directors meeting ended.

"I have enjoyed every minute of the time I spent with the Indians and I'm sorry to leave."

Daley, the club's largest stockholder issued the following statement:

"For some time it has been obvious that differences of opinion existed among the directors of the Cleveland Indians. Obviously, for good baseball in Cleveland this situation could not continue.

"In order to bring about a harmonious conclusion for all concerned, it became necessary for one group to purchase the shares of the other. This has now been accomplished."

Greenberg and the Baxters had been critical of the Indians' operation and demanded the resignation of the club's high-salaried officers. Apparently they meant George Medinger and Nate Dolin, vice presidents.

At the board meeting, Greenberg said, his group tried to purchase Daley's 35 per cent interest in the Indians.

"It became quite clear," Greenberg said, 'that Daley wouldn't sell and so there was little point of continuing the dispute."

The former general manager, who gave way a year ago to the present general manager, Frank Lane, said he wished to remain in baseball. However, Greenberg said he had no definite plans.

Football Party Set Saturday By Nonpareil

Plans for the Blue and White Nonpareil Club's annual party for the varsity football team and coaches were completed when the club met Tuesday night in the YMCA. H. A. Tullis, president, presided.

Don Burbick, general chairman, reported the Potter varsity will attend an informal party Saturday night at 8 at the YMCA Pine Ridge Camp with dancing and indoor activities in the lodge to be featured. A bonfire is planned and beefburgers will be among the refreshments.

Club members have agreed to provide transportation for team members and their dates. Those desiring transportation are to meet at Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Burbick reported.

Other reports were presented by Had Connell, treasurer, Kenny Knowles, secretary, Dick Forzano, membership co-chairman, and Ed Hester, football banquet chairman.

Forzano announced that this year's sale of memberships has hit the 435 mark with a goal set at 500. Hester said the annual football banquet is being planned for early December.

Head football coach Lou Venditti discussed briefly last week's East Liverpool - Alliance game and screened movies of the contest. Venditti told the group that although he was "disappointed" with the outcome of the Alliance game, he thought the team gave a good showing the first six games of the season while playing in tough competition. Movies revealed that end Ron Prince had been clipped on the long touchdown run of Aviator halfback Bob Brown early in the second half which turned the tide in favor of Alliance. Venditti also reported that junior halfback Dave Zelch had suffered a broken nose in the game.

As the Alliance game concluded the football season, Venditti extended appreciation to club members for supporting the team this year, as did Merrill Hall, high school athletic director.

Tullis announced meetings will continue every Tuesday night throughout the basketball season.

After all, game law violators should be dealt with according to law and the importance of wildlife as one of our major natural resources should not be de-emphasized.

Five District Cage Squads Set For Toronto Preview

Five area high school basketball teams — including East Liverpool's Potters and Wellsville's Tigers — are scheduled to participate in the annual Upper Ohio Valley cage preview Saturday night, Nov. 22, at the Toronto High gymnasium.

Also named to participate in the abbreviated contests are Toronto's Red Knight, Jefferson Union and Steubenville Central Catholic's Crusaders.

As has been the usual custom—each team playing two quarters against different opponents — the schedule will be:

Toronto vs. Jefferson Union at 7:30 p. m., Jefferson Union vs. Catholic Central at 7:50, Catholic Central vs. Wellsville at 8:10, Wellsville vs. East Liverpool at 8:30 and East Liverpool vs. Toronto at 8:50.

The preview is being sponsored by Toronto's Kiwanis Club under the direct supervision of the Toronto High School Athletic Board, sanctioned by the State Athletic Board. Registered officials will be used.

Funds raised by the preview will be used by the Toronto club toward child welfare work. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Coaches and teams will be met at the entrance of the Toronto gym and will be treated to a lunch following the preview. Last year's preview at Wellsville drew about 700 fans.

Red Schoendienst Determined To Play Again In Spite Of TB

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, has tuberculosis but his wife said he is determined to play again in the major leagues.

Schoendienst's personal physician, Dr. Ray Martin, said a series of tests disclosed beyond a doubt that the veteran ballplayer has TB and probably will not be able to play next year.

But Schoendienst's wife, Mary, said Tuesday night that he was "in very good spirits and determined to play again."

Red is in Mount St. Rose Sanitarium here. For a week or 10 days he will not be permitted to receive telephone calls or visitors except members of his immediate family. Dr. Martin said "he's a sick man and needs bed rest."

The doctor made no estimate on how long it would take Schoendienst to recuperate but said he was "optimistic about a full recovery."

Braves officials said the team would miss the slim infielder but expressed confidence they could win without him.

Manager Fred Haney said three Braves are second base material, Mel Roach, Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise. Roach, recovering from surgery to repair torn knee ligaments, apparently is the most likely replacement.

Schoendienst, 35 and veteran of 13 years in the majors, led the Braves to their 1957 world championship. He was bothered virtually all last season with a chest cold which developed into pluerisy. He also injured a rib and broke a finger. He batted only .262.

In spite of his rundown condition, he played a splendid 1958 World Series, batting .300 and fielding well.

LSU, Bucks, California Grid Choices

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the week that any bump or bruise suffered on a football field becomes a knightly coat of arms — a regal black badge surrounded by a fringe of royal purple. That's because of tradition, old chap.

California over Stanford: This is known as the Big Game on the West Coast but this time it is big only for the Golden Bears.

Louisiana State over Tulane: LSU will be Tulane's guest but what Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson will do to the Tigers is a caution.

Missouri over Kansas: Both the coaches in this one are new. The things they will see will surprise them.

Southern California over UCLA: San Francisco had an earthquake once, Los Angeles survives this collision each autumn.

Elsewhere: Iowa over Notre Dame, Southern California over UCLA, Florida over Florida State, North Carolina over Duke, Tennessee over Kentucky, Boston University over Connecticut, Holy Cross over Marquette, Dartmouth over Princeton, Rutgers over Columbia, Villanova over Quantico Marines.

Detroit over Dayton, Northwestern over Illinois, North Texas State over Louisville, Michigan State over Kansas State, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Purdue over Indiana, Wichita over George Washington, Wisconsin over Minnesota.

Alabama over Memphis State, Auburn over Wake Forest, Clemson over Boston College, Davidson over Furman, Georgia over The Citadel, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Maryland over Virginia, Syracuse over West Virginia.

Giardello Aims For Title Bout In Webb Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight contender Joey Giardello aims to enlist public support tonight in his campaign to win a shot at the title.

"If I put up a good fight, maybe the people will help me," says Joey who goes against Spider Webb at the Cow Palace in a 10-rounder televised by ABC at 10 p.m. EST.

Giardello, 28, is ranked No. 3 contender in the 160-pound Division by both Ring magazine and the National Boxing Assn.

Webb, 26, a former Olympic boxer from Chicago, holds the No. 4 spot in the NBA ratings and No. 5 in Ring magazine's.

Both are good boxers with a punch. Webb showed his here last January when he knocked out tough Rory Calhoun in the fourth round after being down twice himself.

Webb has fought 33 times with 29 victories and has stopped 15. Giardello has 77 victories, 14 losses, 5 draws and 1 no-decision match.

Sports Editor Dies

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Reports from Miami say that Syracuse is the likely choice to oppose the Big Eight representative — most likely Oklahoma — in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

But at West Virginia, there's a non-poet type named Longfellow who could put the stamp of disapproval on Syracuse's post-season ambitions. He could turn the Mountaineers' so-so season into a successful one if they can defeat the Orange this Saturday.

The 21-year-old with the literary name is Dick Longfellow, senior quarterback and the Southern Conference's new offense leader. He picked up the Mountaineers, after four straight losses following an opening game victory, to three wins and a tie in their last four games.

Longfellow, a mite at 5 foot 9, has gained 1,127 yards in 9 games to overtake Virginia Tech's Bill Holsclaw, who led all season. He has completed 72 of 139 passes for 869 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Another bowl hopeful, Clemson, took a verbal prod from Coach Frank Howard as it prepped for Saturday's game with Boston College.

"They talk like they wanna' go to a bowl," he said, "but now I'd like to see 'em play that way. We just don't look good at all.

Oklahoma and Nebraska, which clash Saturday to decide the Big Eight title officially, both worked on defense Tuesday.

Iowa Coach Forest Evasheveski moved Jeff Langston to No. 1 left end and Capt. John Nocera worked at fullback in place of the injured Dan Horn.

At North Carolina, where the Tar Heels are still hoping for a bowl bid, things were settled down today after a verbal scuffle between Tarheel Coach Jim Tatum and North Carolina Coach Earle Edwards over eligibility of N. C. State tackle Dick Reynolds.

Tatum questioned Reynolds' eligibility when he learned the sophomore had agreed to play pro ball with the Baltimore Colts.

However, this happened when Reynolds played for the Camp Lejune Marines and his eligibility was approved by Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner Jim Weaver.

Ohio State's Bob White Voted As Back Of Week

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob White, Ohio State's fullback, has been named The Associated Press Back of the Week by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters for his strong performance against Iowa.

The 210-pounder hammered the Iowa defenses for 209 yards on 33 carries while scoring 3 touchdowns in Ohio State's 38-28 victory. He bore the brunt of the attack lugging the ball on 11 of 14 plays during the decisive 61-yard touchdown march.

White had to share the glory with Don Clark who carried 15 times for 152 yards although neither matched the yardage total of the losers' Randy Duncan, who made 246 yards net with a passing barrage.

Several other collegians received support in the balloting.

Pete Dawkins, Army's fleet halfback, scored three times in a 26-0 victory over Villanova. He broke open a scoreless game with an 80-yard punt return, raced 46 yards with a Joe Caldwell pass on a great exhibition of faking. Another 48-yard pass play from Caldwell brought the ball to the 5 from where Dawkins took it over.

Charley Milstead, a doubtful starter for Texas A&M against Rice because of a knee injury, played 50 minutes, passed for a touchdown and scored twice, gaining 185 yards. He also kicked 4 extra points in the 28-21 upset over the Owls.

California's Joe Kapp passed and ran for 205 yards against Washington. He was 66 per cent of California's total offense.

Strong support from the South came for Alex Hawkins of South Carolina for his performance against Virginia. His running sparked Carolina's first TD drive, a 45-yard return of an interception broke a tie and his catch kept alive a march for a final TD.

Larry Naviaux of Nebraska drew favorable mention for his 2 southpaw touchdown passes in a 14-6 upset of Pittsburgh. Pete Hart of Hardin-Simmons netted 125 yards while scoring 3 touchdowns against West Texas State.

In the Ivy League area, Jake Crouthamel of Dartmouth scored 3 times and gained 150 yards in 15 carries against Cornell. Frank Finney, Brown's fine passer, scored 3 touchdowns, passed for another and gained 164 yards against Harvard.

Others who got votes were:

Wolves' Incentive High For Upset Against OSU

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Seldom has Michigan had more incentive than for its game Saturday with Ohio State.

The Wolverines, to a man, want a victory as a going-away present for Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. He retires after the annual engagement with the Buckeyes, replaced by backfield coach Bump Elliott.

The Wolverines can erase a season of torment and ridicule by upsetting Ohio State. Two games stand out as most important at Michigan.

One is Michigan State. The Wolverines tied the Spartans early in the season when such a stalemate was considered an accomplishment.

The other is Ohio State. By beating the Buckeyes, Michigan's worst season since 1936 magically would turn into a success.

Michigan, 2-5-1 for the season, is eighth in the Big Ten, lowest in 22 years. The Wolverines two triumphs came over Southern California and Minnesota, each by one point. Navy, Northwestern, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana have defeated the Wolverines.

Michigan's eight foes have amassed 191 points, the most points scored against a Wolverine team in the school's 79-year gridiron history.

"This has been an unfortunate season," said Oosterbaan. "I thought before it started that we'd have a fairly good team if we got breaks and no injuries.

The injuries began haunting the Wolverines by the third game.

Fullback and captain John Herrnstein was lost for the campaign with a knee injury against Navy. From then on, Michigan wasn't the same team. Herrnstein, from Chillicothe, Ohio, was considered the peer of the Buckeye's Bob White.

"When we lost Herrnie," said Oosterbaan, "we had to start revising our attack. The whole offense was built around him."

Then after the Minnesota game, Herrnstein's replacement, Tony Rio, was lost in a football gambling card scandal.

The single wing was used less and less. Michigan reverted to the wing T for the most part. Quarterback Bob Ptacek of Cleveland and Halfback Darrell Harper carried almost the entire offensive load.

Ptacek was injured early in the Northwestern game and the Wildcats crashed through for a 55-24 victory. He outdueled Iowa's Randy Duncan 38 minutes before he was overcome with fatigue. The Hawkeyes rolled for three touchdowns in the final 22 minutes and a 37-14 victory, their first since 1924 over Michigan.

Harper was hurt in the early moments of the Illinois game and Michigan was upset 21-8. He made only a token appearance in last week's Indiana game and Michigan was upset again 8-6.

Sewage Plant At Wellsville Nearly Ready

Final Inspection Set With Completion Slated For Saturday

Wellsville's sewage disposal plant is 98 per cent complete, Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson reported to City Council Tuesday night.

Completion is set officially for Saturday. Some sewage has been directed through the new trunk lines but nothing is being processed in the plant, he reported.

City officials, the engineers and representatives of the H. & H. F. Hosea Co. of Cincinnati, the contractor, will tour the facilities Thursday. This will be the final inspection to determine what must be done before final acceptance.

The plant will cost about $418,000, unofficially, when complete. Robinson said all bills have not been totaled.

The contractor is having slight trouble with one pumping station near the Ohio River, he said. It is about on the same level with the river and floods when there is a rise.

The relocation of the city's main storm sewers, McQueen's Run and 2nd St., is about 75 per cent complete. This project is being done at the federal government's expense.

In other business, Council adopted legislation appropriating $800 from the sewage construction fund to pay Raymond Knepper as bond counsel.

He was retained a year ago to market the bonds and assist in getting federal aid for the plant construction.

Knepper said from the audience he is now due only $360 but said other expenses will be incurred. Legislation was ordered authorizing the renewal of notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds for construction.

Robinson reported that the federal Housing & Home Finance Agency notified the city it does not have to repay $8,000 borrowed in 1947. The money was obtained to pay for plans for a sewage disposal plant.

As none of the original plans was used in the present facility, the city is not obligated to repay the loans.

Wellsville will host the Eastern Ohio Conference of Sewage & Water Employes next June 18.

About 120 are expected. The conference area extends downriver to Marietta, to Coshocton and includes all of Columbiana County.

A dinner, with a speaker, will be held about 6 p. m.

Miss Marie Ellen Yares, daughter of Mrs. Susan Yares and the late Mr. Yares of Gary, Ind., became the bride of Frank Decapio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Decapio of Georgetown, in St. Michael's Catholic Church in Gary Nov. 8.

Fr. John Fetsco performed the double-ring ceremony.

Vocalist was Prof. John Kabonick.

Sex Selection Predicted

Columbianan Re-Elected As Cattle Breeders' Head

LISBON — Frank Morris of Columbiana R. D. 2 was re-elected state director for a three - year term at the annual meeting of the Columbiana County unit of the Central Ohio Breeding Association Tuesday in the First Christian Church.

John Yaggi Jr. of Alliance R. D. 5 and Lewis Justison of East Palestine were elected county committeemen, succeeding Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2 and Ralph Fitzsimmons of New Waterford.

Carryover committeemen are Edwin Copeland of Hanoverton R. D. 1, Leo Davis of East Rochester, Walter Boyd of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Virgil Whinnery of Salem R. D. 3.

"There's a great day coming for dairymen, they will be able to specify sex — heifers, of course — just as they now select bull breed and bloodline through artificial insemination," the group was told.

Dick Kellogg, manager of the COBA, said he is certain controlled sex research will develop a method of separating semen sperms.

He feels this prediction is no greater than that made 15 years ago when dairymen were told that they would be breeding cows with frozen semen, a common practice today.

Kellogg said he is optimistic about COBA's progress and potential. He said the organization will service about 185,000 Ohio cows this year, an increase of 10,000 over 1957. In addition, semen from COBA bulls will breed from 30,000 to 35,000 cows in Texas and around 10,000 in Colorado.

He cited the low cost of the service — the $6 fee has been in effect since 1948. He outlined the benefits of COBA's artificial insemination program.

Tony Edgerton of Salem R. D. 2 reported that COBA's three county technicians will service approximately 5,774 cows this year, an increase of 316 over 1957. Columbiana County has about 15,000 cows, Edgerton said.

The other county technicians are Elwood Ziegler of Leetonia R. D. 2, and Bryce Tharp of Minerva R. D. 2. James Mellinger of Leetonia R. D. 2 is district supervisor.

Morris introduced Darrell Stacy, 15, a United Local High School sophomore, who won COBA's 4-H calf award for taking first in dairy showmanship last August at the County Fair. Young Stacey resides with Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCullough of Salem R. D. 2.

The Rev. Loy Gobrecht of Ellwood City entertained with a humorous address after business. Approximately 50 attended the noon dinner and meeting. Morris presided.

Friend Gets Tickets— For Last Year's Game

But he was a little annoyed when the friend didn't show up. And he was more than a little annoyed when the friend never explained.

Admit 25 Robberies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police say Paul Tipton, 36, of Washington Court House and his nephew, Mathew Clark Tipton, 23, of Dayton have admitted 25 robberies throughout Ohio. Loot totaled $9,600 in 12 holdups in Dayton alone, police said. The pair was arrested here Monday, the younger Tipton after a gunfight with police in which one hand was almost shot off and had to be amputated.

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor John C. Jaworski will seek reelection to a fifth term. The 66-year-old Democrat established a precedent when he became Lorain's only four-time mayor. He announced his candidacy Tuesday.

Plans Complete For Church Shift In Southern Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Presbytery say plans are complete for a shift of churches in southern Ohio.

A spokesman said the chief effect on the presbytery will be transfer of Wilmington, Hillsboro and Mowrystown churches, plus five smaller congregations called the Highland County Parish, to the Scioto Presbytery. There are about 800 congregation members.

The Cincinnati unit will gain churches at Sycamore and Hopkinsville, with a total membership of about 500.

The presbytery also set next Jan. 5 for a special meeting for the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., completed by national officials last May.

Wrong-Way Driver Fined $300, Jailed

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Drinking and driving in the wrong direction on the Ohio Turnpike proved costly for a Michigan motorist.

Bruno A. Giacobbi, 36, of Melvindale pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. His sentence: a 30-day jail term, a $300 fine and suspension of driving privileges in Ohio for three years.

Judge David R. Goldthrope sentenced Giacobbi in Oberlin Municipal Court Tuesday night. He will service the jail term in the Toledo workhouse.

Sewage Plant At Wellsville Nearly Ready

Final Inspection Set With Completion Slated For Saturday

Wellsville's sewage disposal plant is 98 per cent complete, Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson reported to City Council Tuesday night.

Completion is set officially for Saturday. Some sewage has been directed through the new trunk lines but nothing is being processed in the plant, he reported.

City officials, the engineers and representatives of the H. & H. F. Hosea Co. of Cincinnati, the contractor, will tour the facilities Thursday. This will be the final inspection to determine what must be done before final acceptance.

The plant will cost about $418,000, unofficially, when complete. Robinson said all bills have not been totaled.

The contractor is having slight trouble with one pumping station near the Ohio River, he said. It is about on the same level with the river and floods when there is a rise.

The relocation of the city's main storm sewers, McQueen's Run and 2nd St., is about 75 per cent complete. This project is being done at the federal government's expense.

In other business, Council adopted legislation appropriating $800 from the sewage construction fund to pay Raymond Knepper as bond counsel.

He was retained a year ago to market the bonds and assist in getting federal aid for the plant construction.

Knepper said from the audience he is now due only $360 but said other expenses will be incurred. Legislation was ordered authorizing the renewal of notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds for construction.

Robinson reported that the federal Housing & Home Finance Agency notified the city it does not have to repay $8,000 borrowed in 1947. The money was obtained to pay for plans for a sewage disposal plant.

As none of the original plans was used in the present facility, the city is not obligated to repay the loans.

Wellsville will host the Eastern Ohio Conference of Sewage & Water Employes next June 18.

About 120 are expected. The conference area extends downriver to Marietta, to Coshocton and includes all of Columbiana County.

The delegates will tour the sewage plant, water filtration plant and an area industrial plant.

A dinner, with a speaker, will be held about 6 p. m.

Georgetown

Miss Marie Ellen Yares, daughter of Mrs. Susan Yares and the late Mr. Yares of Gary, Ind., became the bride of Frank Decapio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Decapio of Georgetown, in St. Michael's Catholic Church in Gary Nov. 8.

Fr. John Fetsco performed the double-ring ceremony.

Vocalist was Prof. John Kabonick.

She wore a coronet headpiece with a fingertip veil of silk illusion and carried Amazon lilies and holly leaves. Her jewelry was cultured pearl and diamond ear rings.

She carried a tapered bouquet of pale green cymbodium orchids. Her headband was a bow-topped contour band of matching fabric with a short silk illusion veil.

Mrs. Susan Yares was hostess to 150 guests at a luncheon at the Knights of Columbus ballroom where a reception was given later for 450 guests.

She is a graduate of Tallesten High School of Gary and was employed by the Anderson Co. as a clerk-typist.

Decapio is a graduate of Lincoln High School at Midland, and of Geneva College. He is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

They are residing on Virginia Ave., Chester.

A post-nuptial shower was given the bride by her sister, Mrs. George Blakemera, of Industry on Saturday, Nov. 15.

Season sauerkraut with minced onion, a bay leaf and brown sugar; add frankfurters and small boiled new potatoes. Simmer in a large skillet until savory hot.

Sex Selection Predicted

Columbianan Re-Elected As Cattle Breeders' Head

LISBON — Frank Morris of Columbiana R. D. 2 was re-elected state director for a three - year term at the annual meeting of the Columbiana County unit of the Central Ohio Breeding Association Tuesday in the First Christian Church.

John Yaggi Jr. of Alliance R. D. 5 and Lewis Justison of East Palestine were elected county committeemen, succeeding Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2 and Ralph Fitzsimmons of New Waterford.

Carryover committeemen are Edwin Copeland of Hanoverton R. D. 1, Leo Davis of East Rochester, Walter Boyd of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Virgil Whinnery of Salem R. D. 3.

"There's a great day coming for dairymen, they will be able to specify sex — heifers, of course — just as they now select bull breed and bloodline through artificial insemination," the group was told.

Dick Kellogg, manager of the COBA, said he is certain controlled sex research will develop a method of separating semen sperms.

He feels this prediction is no greater than that made 15 years ago when dairymen were told that they would be breeding cows with frozen semen, a common practice today.

Kellogg said he is optimistic about COBA's progress and potential. He said the organization will service about 185,000 Ohio cows this year, an increase of 10,000 over 1957. In addition, semen from COBA bulls will breed from 30,000 to 35,000 cows in Texas and around 10,000 in Colorado.

He cited the low cost of the service — the $6 fee has been in effect since 1948. He outlined the benefits of COBA's artificial insemination program.

Tony Edgerton of Salem R. D. 2 reported that COBA's three county technicians will service approximately 5,774 cows this year, an increase of 316 over 1957. Columbiana County has about 15,000 cows, Edgerton said.

The other county technicians are Elwood Ziegler of Leetonia R. D. 2, and Bryce Tharp of Minerva R. D. 2. James Mellinger of Leetonia R. D. 2 is district supervisor.

Morris introduced Darrell Stacy, 15, a United Local High School sophomore, who won COBA's 4-H calf award for taking first in dairy showmanship last August at the County Fair. Young Stacey resides with Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCullough of Salem R. D. 2.

The Rev. Loy Gobrecht of Ellwood City entertained with a humorous address after business. Approximately 50 attended the noon dinner and meeting. Morris presided.

Plans Complete For Church Shift In Southern Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Presbytery say plans are complete for a shift of churches in southern Ohio.

A spokesman said the chief effect on the presbytery will be transfer of Wilmington, Hillsboro and Mowrystown churches, plus five smaller congregations called the Highland County Parish, to the Scioto Presbytery. There are about 800 congregation members.

The Cincinnati unit will gain churches at Sycamore and Hopkinsville, with a total membership of about 500.

The presbytery also set next Jan. 5 for a special meeting for the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church, U. S.A., completed by national officials last May.

Wrong-Way Driver Fined $300, Jailed

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Drinking and driving in the wrong direction on the Ohio Turnpike proved costly for a Michigan motorist.

Bruno A. Giacobbi, 36, of Melvindale pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. His sentence: a 30-day jail term, a $300 fine and suspension of driving privileges in Ohio for three years.

Judge David R. Goldthrope sentenced Giacobbi in Oberlin Municipal Court Tuesday night. He will service the jail term in the Toledo workhouse.

Friend Gets Tickets— For Last Year's Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. William J. Green (D-Pa.) didn't mind going to a lot of trouble last year to get a pair of tickets to the Army-Navy game for a friend.

But he was a little annoyed when the friend didn't show up. And he was more than a little annoyed when the friend never explained.

Admit 25 Robberies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police say Paul Tipton, 36, of Washington Court House and his nephew, Mathew Clark Tipton, 23, of Dayton have admitted 25 robberies throughout Ohio. Loot totaled $9,600 in 12 holdups in Dayton alone, police said. The pair was arrested here Monday, the younger Tipton after a gunfight with police in which one hand was almost shot off and had to be amputated.

Seeks 5th Term

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor John C. Jaworski will seek re-election to a fifth term. The 66-year-old Democrat established a precedent when he became Lorain's only four-time mayor. He announced his candidacy Tuesday.

Board Awaits Vote Recounts

Principals Notified Of Tally Thursday

The Columbiana County Election Board is completing preparations for recounts scheduled Thursday night at 8 on returns from the Nov. 4 election that showed apparent defeat of bond issues in New Waterford village and the Fairfield-Waterford School District, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Notices have been sent by registered mail to the chairmen of the committees that filed the recount applications last week — Andrew Bretz for the school district and Mrs. Josephine Fittante for the village, O'Hanlon said.

Voters apparently rejected a $550,000 building bond issue in the school district and a $35,000 sewer bond issue in the village. The recount will cover the lone precinct in the village and three Fairfield Township precincts that are part of the school district.

Meanwhile, the Election Board is preparing to forward to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown the fees for commissions paid by five officials-elect. The fees already have been collected for the state from Luther Donbar, J. L. MacDonald and Earl Spalding, who were elected county court judges, and Frank Wilson, a new commissioner. When Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp files a campaign expense report and pays the fee for his new commission, the list will be complete.

Representatives Named For Farmers Award

LISBON — James Ewing of Lisbon R. D. 1 and Lee Haynam of East Rochester will represent 33 Columbiana County farmers at the Green pasture recognition banquet to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Winona Methodist Church.

George Gist, extension agronomist from Ohio State University, will speak in relating the practices and results of the pasture work.

Achievement certificates will be presented to the 33 farmers who have completed or nearly completed their pasture programs during the past year.

Twenty - two farmers were recognized in the years 1952 to 1957.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Key To Banishing Bulges

Ease into smooth exercise. Well-toned muscles help you appear pounds lighter and feel years younger. A normal amount of tone in the muscles, particularly in the figure controlling areas, helps your figure look the way nature designed the figure to look — waist neat, abdomen firm, hips smooth. What more could you ask of exercise?

Ida Jean Kain

If you are overweight, of course you want to know if exercise will help you to reduce in spots. Yes . . . provided you cut calories and stir up the circulation in the fat susceptible areas. Specific exercises can stimulate the circulation in the fatty spots. Moreover, exercises directed through the flabby muscles restore tone, or elasticity, and reshape the figure.

Start with an easy stretch — make-believe ladder climbing.

POSITION: Standing with feet slightly apart, arms raised overhead.

Movement: Reach up with right arm, and as you reach, pull smoothly slim all through the middle measurement. Then reach upwards with the left arm, again pulling from the middle to elongate the entire midsection. Every rung goes higher . . . higher. Keep it smooth, continuing until your body feels pleasantly stretched.

To make this exercise even more effective — as you bend to the side, lift hips slightly off heels and stretch clear to the fingertips of extended hand as you touch fingers of the other hand to the floor.

MOVEMENT: Flex right knee briskly toward chest, shoot leg straight down, then swing vigorously toward rear. Hold and repeat. Do this to count of one-two swing. Repeat 10 counts, change sides and repeat.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflets entitled, "For A Slimmer Midriff" and "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Don't Force Teacher To Admit Error

I Can imagine some cases in which a teacher, realizing she was wrong in her handling of a pupil, would properly admit her error to the parent, even to the child. Such an admission could have a good effect for her own self - regard and for a better relationship with her pupils. But to make such an admission because she was pressed to do so by the parent would not be easy for her.

By Garry Meyers

IT SOMETIMES happens that a parent is convinced that the teacher has treated her child wrongly — and she may be correct.

But if this parent is really wise, she won't try to force the teacher to admit her error. She should know human nature well enough to leave it to the teacher's free choice whether to make the admission or not.

After all, if you, as parent, go to the teacher to talk about some matter related to your child, you should have only one concern: to better the child's and your own relationship with the teacher.

Just what could prompt you to try to force the teacher to confess to an alleged error?

Perhaps it is your own pride and wish to humiliate her and express your superiority over her. Then you could brag to your child how you put the teacher in her place and he would share your feeling of superiority.

SUPPOSE your child were with you when you were dealing with the teacher in this way. How much more unwise this procedure would be.

Of course you could have been wrong in the first place. Your child might not have reported the matter correctly. You might have judged it on only partial or wholly incorrect evidence. In this event, see the normal damage to your child.

If your child reports to you an instance in which he felt mistreated by the teacher, listen patiently. Let him talk freely as long as he is not abusive toward her. Pass no judgment then.

Ponder the matter for some days till you think you are able to talk it over with the teacher without heat, in a quiet, cultivated manner. Never abuse or accuse her.

In this conference, you may learn from her much more about your child than you did, and she might learn more about him from you. Together, you might work out a way to help him.

My bulletin, "Helping Our Children Succeed at School," may be obtained by sending a stamped, self - addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

R. I. A. A. Defines True Stereo Recordings

New York, a definition of the stereophonic has been approved by the record industry association of America at the recent meeting of the R. I. A. A. board.

Definition drawn up by the R. I. A. A. Board and Engineering committee is as follows:

A true stereophonic disc record has two distinct orthogonal modulations derived from an original live recording which a minimum of two separate channels were employed.

Individual diskeries hailed the R. I. A. A. definition as likely to bring to the consumer a clearer understanding of stereo. Diskeries have also stated they would use a legend on packages indicating whether according to R. I. A. A. standards as album is a regular high fidelity disc or a high fidelity true stereophonic record.

Keep In Trim

Exercise Key To Banishing Bulges

Ida Jean Kain

If you are overweight, of course you want to know if exercise will help you to reduce in spots. Yes . . . provided you cut calories and stir up the circulation in the fat susceptible areas. Specific exercises can stimulate the circulation in the fatty spots. Moreover, exercises directed through the flabby muscles restore tone, or elasticity, and reshape the figure.

POSITION: Standing with f e e t slightly apart, arms raised overhead.

Movement: Reach up with right arm, and as you reach, p u l l smoothly slim all through the middle measurement. Then reach upwards with the left arm, again pulling from the middle to elongate the entire midsection. Every rung goes higher . . . higher. Keep it smooth, continuing until your body feels pleasantly stretched.

Add a side - bend. Position: Stand on knees, then simply sit back on your legs. Have arms outstretched at shoulder level.

To make this exercise even more effective — as you bend to the side, lift hips slightly off heels and stretch clear to the fingertips of extended hand as you touch fingers of the other hand to the floor.

MOVEMENT: Flex right k n e e briskly toward chest, shoot leg straight down, then swing vigorously toward rear. Hold and repeat. Do this to count of one-two swing. Repeat 10 counts, change sides and repeat.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflets entitled, "For A Slimmer Midriff" and "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Bringing Up A Family

Don't Force Teacher To Admit Error

I Can imagine some cases in which a teacher, realizing s h e was wrong in her handling of a pupil, would properly admit her error to t h e parent, even to the c h i l d. Such an admission could have a good effect for her own self - regard and f o r a better relationship with h e r pupils. But to make such an admission because s h e was pressed to do so by the parent would not be easy for her.

IT SOMETIMES happens that a parent is convinced that the teacher has treated her c h i l d wrongly — and she may be correct.

But if this parent is really wise, she won't try to force the teacher to admit her error. She should know human nature well enough to leave it to the teacher's free choice whether to make the admission or not.

After all, if you, as parent, go to the teacher to talk about some matter related to your child, you should have only one concern: to better the child's and your own relationship with the teacher.

Just what could prompt y o u to try to force the teacher to confess to an alleged error?

Perhaps it is your own pride and wish to humiliate her and express your superiority over h e r. Then you could brag to your child how you put the teacher in her place and he would share y o u r feeling of superiority.

SUPPOSE your child were with you when you were dealing with the teacher in this way. H o w much more unwise this procedure would be.

Of course you could have been wrong in the first place. Y o u r child might not have reported the matter correctly. You might have judged it on only partial or wholly incorrect evidence. In t h i s event, see the normal damage to your child.

If your child reports to you an instance in which he felt mistreated by the teacher, listen patiently. Let him talk freely as long as he is not abusive toward her. Pass no judgment then.

Ponder the matter for s o m e days till you think you are able to talk it over with the teacher without heat, in a quiet, cultivated manner. Never abuse or accuse her.

In this conference, y o u m a y learn from her much more about your child than you did, and she might learn more about him from you. Together, you might w o r k out a way to help him.

My bulletin, "Helping Our Children Succeed at School," may be obtained by sending a stamped, self - addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Said bids will be promptly considered by the Council of said City.

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1958, shall all be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall be numbered consecutively commencing with Number 1, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first day of June and the first day of December of each year, beginning June 1, 1959, at the rate of four per centum per annum, but anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or multiples thereof.

Said bonds shall mature as follows: $10,000 on December 1 in each year from 1960 to 1979, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of paying part of the cost of improving and extending the municipal sewerage system; and are supported by limited taxes.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by the said Auditor by lot. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank (other than the bidder) payable to the City of East Liverpool in the amount of one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Sewerage System Improvement Bonds"

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion together with a complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the City, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that said Council of the City will meet at seven o'clock p. m. on the 4th day of December, 1958, to consider said bids and make an award.

Council Rejects Parking Limitation

Legislation to prohibit parking on 15th St. was turned down and another ordinance providing one-side parking on a section of Center St. passed second reading by only a 4-3 vote following lengthy discussions at Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

A delegation of about 10 appeared to protest the proposed parking ban on 15th between Commerce St. and Buckeye Ave.

Speaking against the move from the audience were Earl Bake, president of the Board of Education; George Hardman, Mrs. Joseph Rawlings and James Judge. All said the primary trouble is not parking but speeding.

ALL FEEL heavy traffic should be discouraged from using the street. Bake suggested one - way traffic at a future time when an adjoining street could be also made one - way in another direction but Hardman disagreed with this.

About two months ago residents of 15th St. petitioned Council to investigate the traffic situation and take steps to alleviate it.

A survey was made and studied by Council. The move was then made to prohibit all parking to allow a better flow of traffic as the street is narrow. But the residents contend this will only tend to increase the speed.

COUNCILMEN Ancel Moore, Robert Taggart and Frank Wilson opposed the second reading for one - side parking on the south side on Center between 12th and 15th Sts.

Moore said he has received several complaints from residents of the neighborhood. Taggart also said he has received complaints. "If Council doesn't watch out, it will one-side, no-park this town to death," he warned.

Councilman Paul Nelson said something has to be done. Councilman J. Frederick Russell, president pro - tem, conducted business in the absence of Myron Weis, president. He pointed out it was the street and light committee — Moore, Nelson and Taggart — that recommended the legislation. Taggart said he never attended a meeting when the street was discussed.

MOORE suggested a traffic light be used at 15th and Commerce to replace four-way stop signs.

Kenneth Bell, clerk, was directed to write the Stevenson Co., asking a meeting with an official of the firm and Council to discuss the opening of Geiss Alley. It has been closed for years and residents have requested it be reopened. Part of it is fenced in by Stevenson.

Safety-Service Director William Robinson said the city has been offered another right-of-way by the firm but the proposal was never put in writing.

Taggart reported that Mayor William J. Shoub, who is ill and was not present, and Robinson are investigating a garage as a possible place for housing city equipment.

COUNCILMAN Richard Brown reported the Sterling China Co. dump at 12th St. has been cleaned up as requested by the city. He said Civil Defense officials have asked that the city aid in the purchase of foul weather gear for members. The finance committee is to meet with Floyd Hall, CD director, to discuss the matter.

Refuse and water department finances were reviewed by Russell, water chairman, and Taggart, refuse chairman. Russell said the water committee is investigating choices for a Public Utilities Board it is planning to operate the water department.

Russell said the department does not have enough money at present to consider installation of an auxiliary water line, in answer to a question by Brown.

ROBINSON pointed out the department's finances reflect increased operating costs. Employes have received three wage increases since 1952. The city raised water rates slightly in the spring.

Robert Heaton, dog warden, offered his unofficial resignation following the session last night. He was present in the audience and after Council adjourned, Heaton tossed his badge on to the Council table and then walked over to Robinson standing nearby and said, "I resign as dog warden."

Robinson told him to put it in writing and present it to the mayor to make it official.

The Rev. E. E. Bacon offered the opening prayer.

Water Board Gets Contracts To Sign

The Midland Municipal Water Authority Tuesday evening received water improvement contracts for signatures.

The contracts, which cover new lines and a new 500,000-gallon water tank, were presented after study by a representative of Michael Baker, Jr., Rochester engineers.

Signatures of Dr. Zanvel Sigal, authority chairman, and Robert Masters, secretary and solicitor, are needed for the contractors to begin work.

The authority will advertise this month for bids for next year's supply of chemicals. Bids will be accepted up to the meeting Dec. 16.

Mrs. Dorothy Kukich has taken over duties as assistant bookkeeper. She replaces Mrs. Mildred Govic, who resigned.

Wellsville PTA Hears 'American Way' Talk

"The American Way of Life" was discussed by Mrs. Clarence Green of East Liverpool at the monthly meeting of the Garfield Parent - Teacher Association Monday night in the Wellsville school. Mrs. Green is immediate past regent of Bethia Southwick Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution.

The pledge of allegiance opened the meeting with William Ferrell, president, presiding. The Rev. William A. Hewitt, pastor of the Central Methodist Church, led devotions. The attendance banner was won by the second grade of Mrs. Emma Lewis. A vocal solo was presented by Mrs. Sara Miller. A candy sale was held.

Farmer Has Hot Well And He's In Fever About It

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—Farmer Chalmer Lovdahl has a hot well on his farm and he's in a little fever about it.

The 30-foot well, Lovdahl said, had furnished sparkling and cold water for his household for 36 years until last August.

"The water was far colder and better for drinking than water from a nearby well—125 feet deep—that I use for my stock," Lovdahl said.

But the water in the smaller well began warming up last August. It became progressively warmer and recently it leveled off at 101 degrees, where it has remained.

Lovdahl called in experts from the University of Illinois and the State Health Department to explain the phenomenon. No satisfactory explanations were given.

Lovdahl said he's undecided whether to move away on the theory he is living on top of an incipient volcano or to harness the water to his hot water heating system and forget about fuel bills.

Woman Indicted

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Charged with second degree murder for her husband's slaying, Mrs. Carole Brown also faces an embezzlement indictment. The 21-year-old mother of two children was indicted by the Mahoning County Grand Jury Tuesday for embezzling nearly $15,000 from Local 171, Carpenters Union, where she was employed as a secretary. Charges that she shot and killed her husband, Richard, last month will be presented to the next session of the grand jury.

Defendant Favored In Action Over Crash

LISBON — A verdict in favor of the defendant was returned by a Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday afternoon in a case of Joseph O. Edwards against David D. Farnsworth, both of Minerva R. D. 2.

Edwards sued Farnsworth for $9,726.08 for alleged personal injuries and damages sustained in a two - car collision Dec. 5, 1954, at the intersection of State Route 172 and County Rd. 402 in New Alexander. The trial began Monday.

Virginia Students Riot Broken Up With 5 Arrested

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—A demonstration by about 1,000 students against University of Virginia regulations curbing the use of automobiles was broken up Tuesday night by police using tear gas.

More than 25 state troopers were summoned and brought tear gas with them.

The incident began when an old car was dragged into an open field and set afire to protest the banning of automobiles for all but senior students.

The crowd of students began marching in a massed line toward downtown Charlottesville. They were met by a solid wall of state, city and university police. When the students refused to return to the campus, police fired tear gas bombs into the crowd.

R. M. McFarland, president-elect, and other officers will attend a Kiwanis conference Sunday at Clarksburg.

Bomb Scare Forces 300 Coeds To Flee

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A bomb scare forced 300 coeds out of two Muskingum College dormitories Tuesday night.

Sheriff David Weissert and 20 lawmen made a three-hour room by room search of Patton and Kelley Halls after Mrs. Mabel Kenyon, dean of women, received an annonymous letter saying a bomb would be detonated in one of the two adjacent residences at 1 a.m. today.

No bomb was found. But the dormitories were vacated and locked for the night as a precautionary measure. The coeds were accomodated at other women's' residences.

THE PRICE OF PRESCRIPTIONS

One reason why people may be surprised at the price of their prescription is because it isn't a regular expense item like other (and often more expensive) items such as dinner out, auto repairs or clothes for the kids. Yet the savings afforded in prevention of hospitalization or loss of job time more than make up for the price of the prescription. Gain full benefit from your doctor's expert care by bringing your prescriptions to our registered pharmacists.
